THE SENIOR CLASS

PROVISO TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL

MAYWOOD . . . ILLINOIS

Foreword

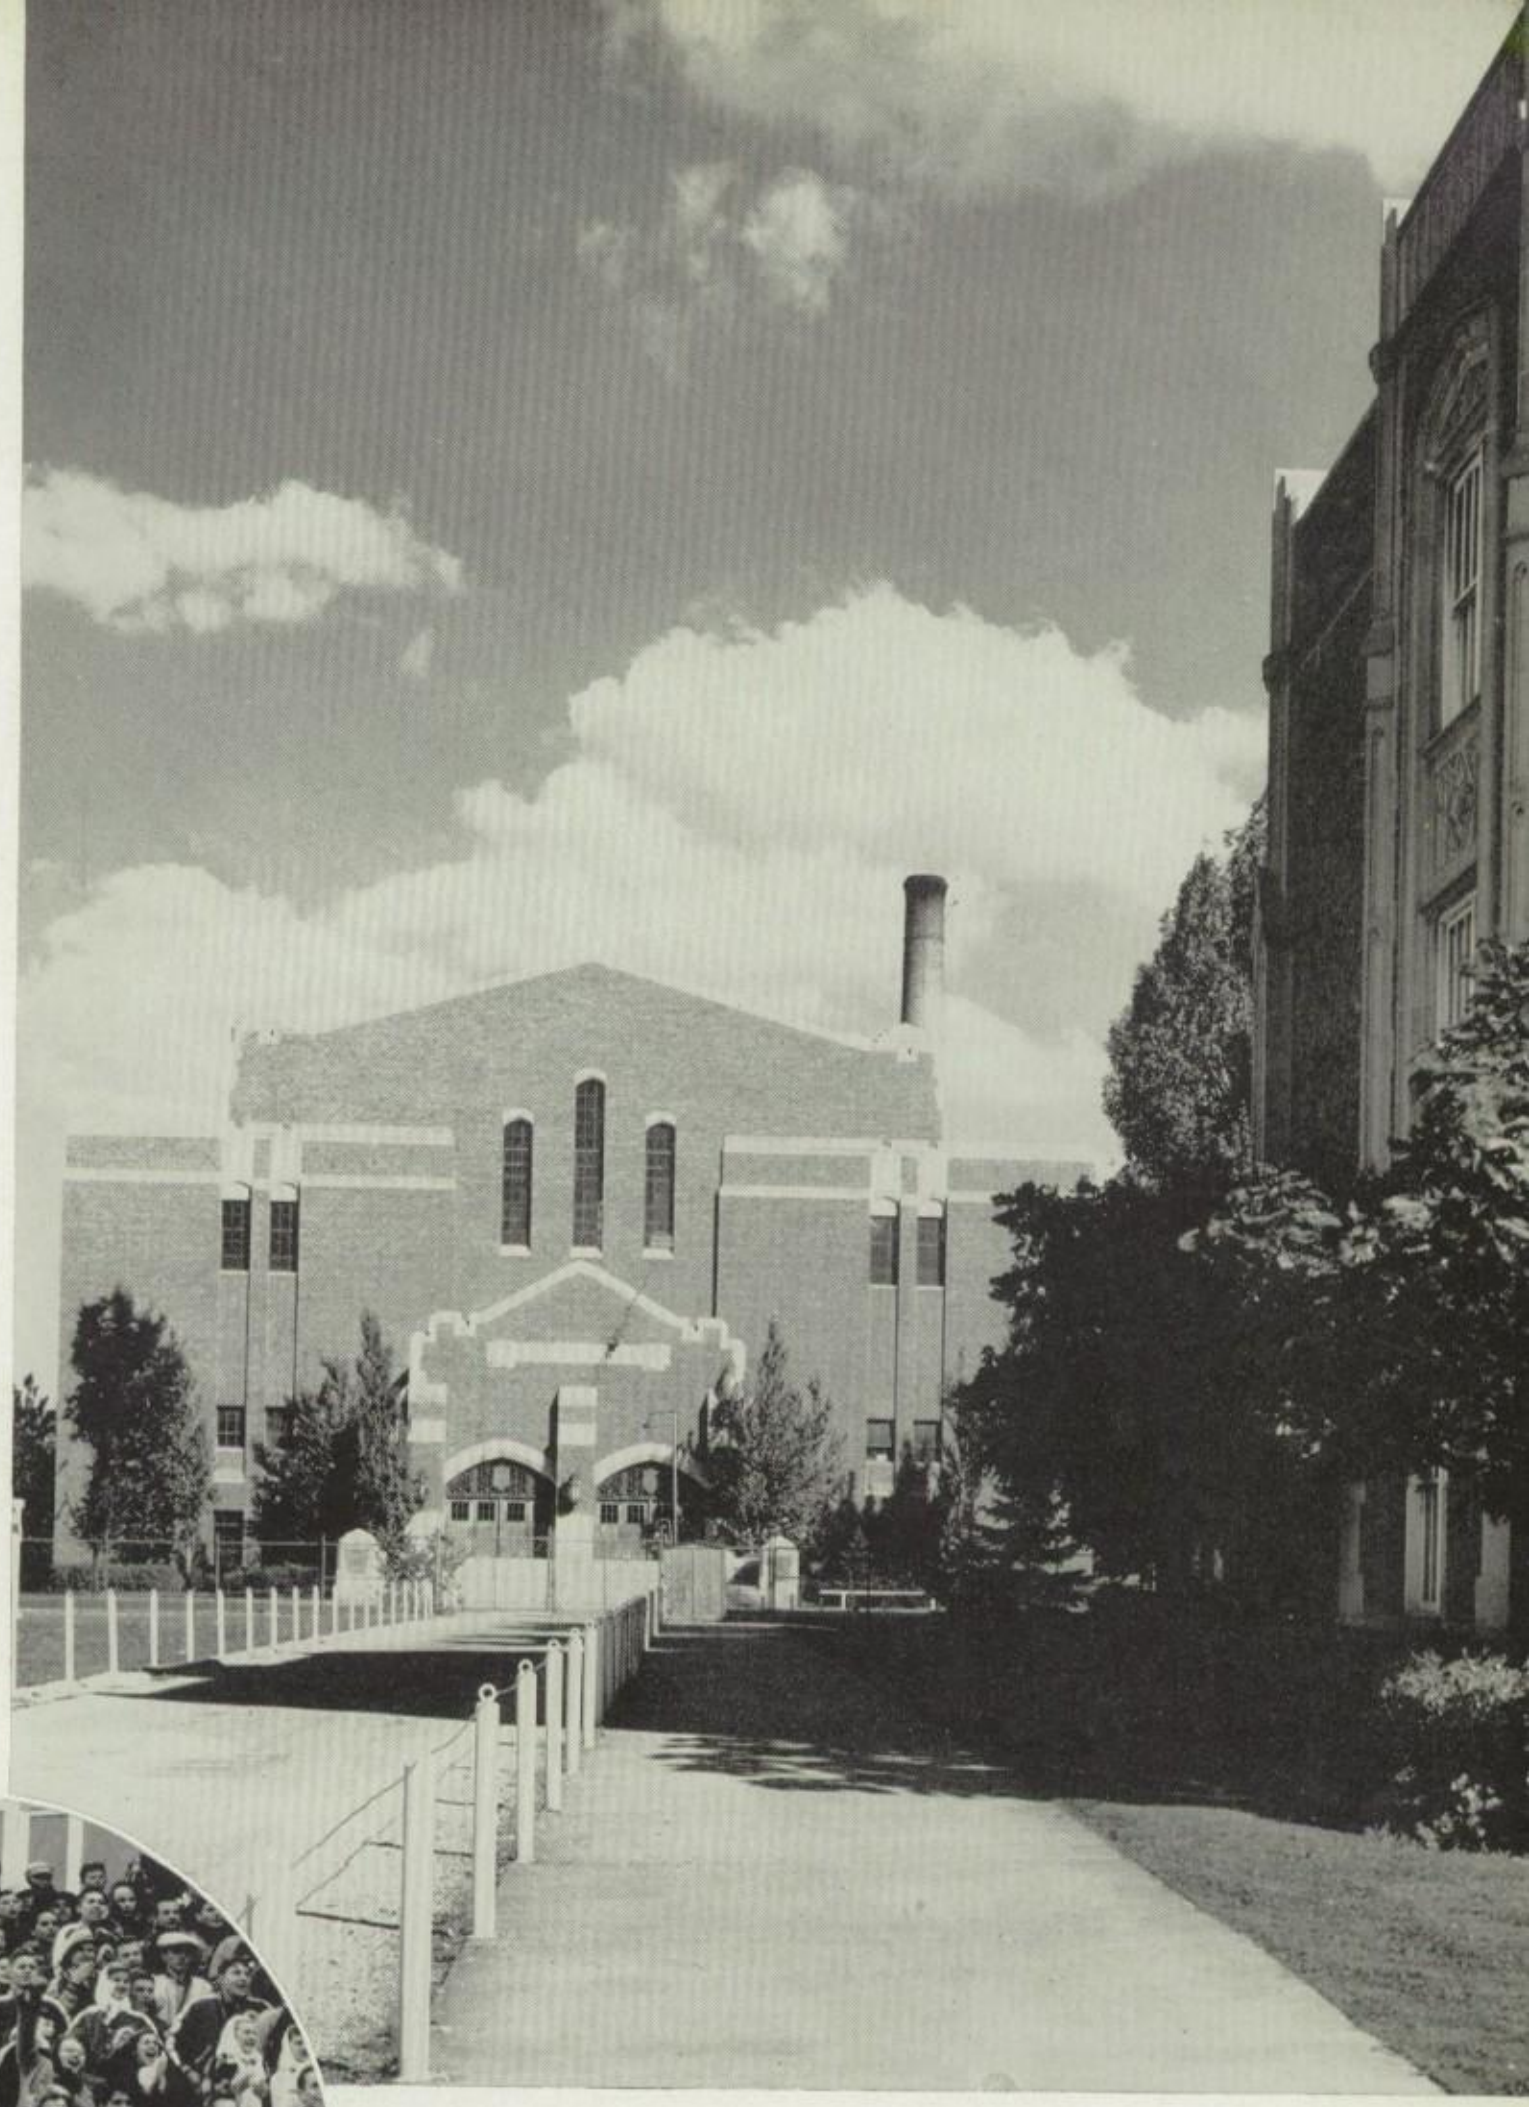
The youth of 1949 have many things in common with those hearty pioneers, the '49ers of a century ago. They are facing as challenging and uncertain a world today as was the untamed West which the '49ers so courageously approached. They are blazing the way for those to come just as the '49ers did, and they are pioneering in many fields. They are doing their share in keeping the wheels of progress ever turning. Both groups of '49ers have shown outstanding qualities of character including courage, steadfastness, determination, and the willingness to sacrifice in order to achieve a goal.

Because of these similarities the '49ers have been selected as the guiding influence for this PROVI.

The beautiful high-towered "New Building" with its spacious administration offices, its friendly social room, high-vaulted library, garden court, and modern class rooms is the pride of the community.

The "Old Building," elm-shaded and mellowed, holds cherished memories for Proviso alumni of several generations. In its auditorium, students and townspeople find entertainment and inspiration from music, lectures, and plays.

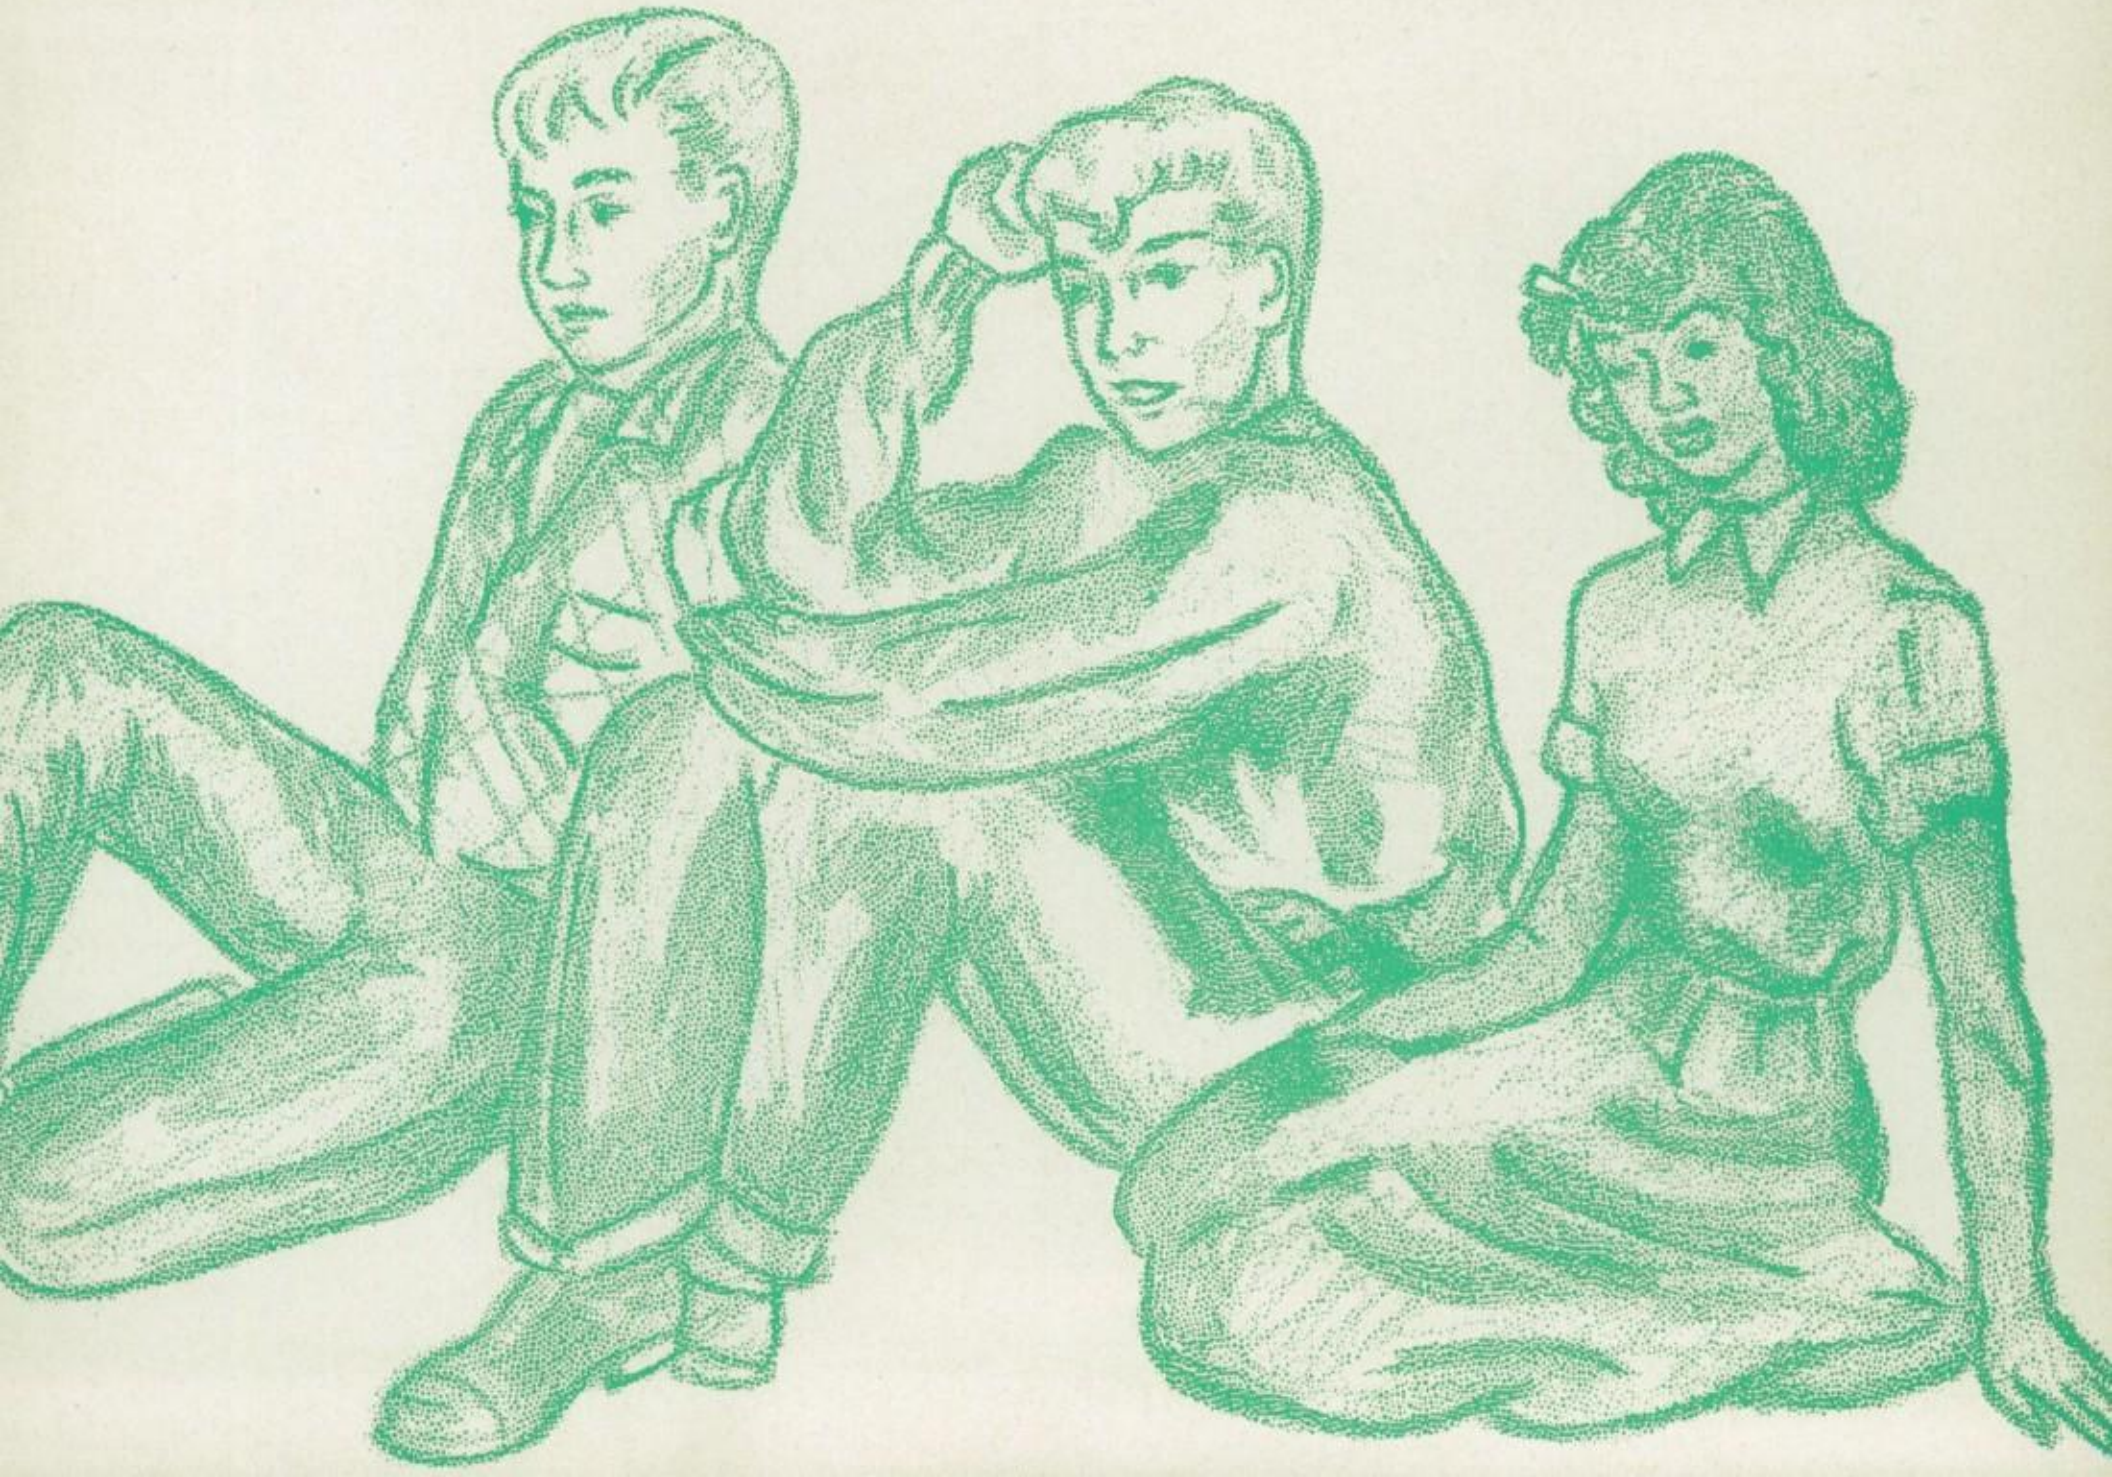
Through these wide hospitable gates each year come thousands of enthusiastic followers of Proviso's sports — gay, eager, colorful crowds ready to cheer the teams to victory.



The functions of the Field House are highly diversified: variously it is the scene of lively gym classes, athletic contests, memorable proms, and impressive graduation ceremonies.

The School

And so begins the journey . . .
Like the numberless, nameless pioneers,
We seek and pursue a dream;
Like their stirring conquest
Is our conquest of knowledge.
We taste the thrill,
The excitement of traveling
The rough road that lies ahead.
Impelled by new ideas,
By faith and perseverance,
Our unfaltering and indomitable spirits
Press onward, guided by leaders
Who have traveled the road of education.



Superintendent Sifert

Dr. E. R. Sifert, the administrative head of Proviso Township High School since 1936, through his careful planning and wise recommendations to the Board of Education, has done much to make possible the notable progress of Proviso. He is known throughout the community for his inspiring speeches and for his capable leadership. His outstanding executive ability has helped to make Proviso a school of which the class of 1949 may well be proud.

The Board of Education

The members of the Board of Education, who give unsparingly of their time to the good of Proviso, are responsible for protecting the educational interests of the school. Financial affairs and school policy are their chief concerns; however, they direct and further all improvements, promote maintenance inside and out, and in general encourage the betterment of Proviso High School. They also give final approval to all personnel appointments and provide for additions to classroom equipment.

The offices of this Board are rotated from year to year. Each of these men has at some time served as president and as secretary. This year Fred Meyer is president of the Board, and William Gee is secretary.

Dr. E. R. Sifert, superintendent, attends all meetings and serves by making recommendations to the group.

Louis Ancel, who is retained as school attorney, handles all legal matters.

THE BUSINESS OFFICE

In the Business Office all funds are deposited, all purchases transacted, and all bills paid. Directing the work of her two assistants is Mrs. Hattie Haupt, purchasing agent and secretary to the Board of Education. Miss Gertrude Bathje acts as assistant purchasing agent, while Miss Leona Palka is in charge of collecting, recording, and banking all student funds. Other duties performed by these busy people are selling bus tickets, collecting tuitions, drawing up payrolls, and handling government deductions for withholding taxes.

DEPARTMENTAL SECRETARIES

The departmental secretaries, in addition to their other duties, assist in the work of the main office.

BOOK ROOM

Mrs. Emma Johnson, manager of Proviso's bookroom, keeps records of more than 40,000 volumes and texts. She also sells workbooks to students.

The Administration Office

C. C. Taggart, Proviso's assistant superintendent, is respected by faculty and students alike as the last authority on all statistical matters concerning the school. He has supervision of student enrollment, teachers' programs, and school organizations.

Miss Mary Carroll, registrar, is in charge of the permanent records of Proviso. She is responsible for evaluating all incoming credits, and for preparing transcripts of credits to be sent to colleges.

Seven regular staff members assist Mr. Taggart and Miss Carroll. Their duties include listing daily attendance, operating the switchboard, and doing general clerical work.

Committees Discuss Varied Problems

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Advisory Committee, guided by E. R. Sifert, has the responsibility of seeing that all important suggestions recommended by the members of the faculty are carefully considered. In order that new ideas may be brought in, one member is replaced each year.

THE CURRICULUM COMMITTEE

The Curriculum Committee, under the direction of Miss Mary Sigworth, is responsible for working on any curricular problems arising within the school and for considering ways to improve the present curriculum. All matters are approved and cleared by the members. Recommendations for the discontinuance of one course or the adaption of a new one are made by this committee.

THE COLLEGE COMMITTEE

The College Committee, headed by C. C. Taggart, gathers bulletins, pamphlets, and other informative material about universities and colleges all over the country to aid students in choosing worthy institutions. Each fall, the Committee sponsors Junior-Senior College Day, at which time students and parents interview representatives from many nearby colleges.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student Council Advisory Committee stands patiently behind the Student Council at all times, giving support, advice, and lending a guiding hand whenever needed. Each faculty member supervises the activities and actions of one particular student committee, Miss Dorothy Thompson acting as general chairman. The students remain on their own so long as their movements meet with the approval of the Council, but when some difficulty presents itself, the Advisory Committee is ready and willing to meet the demand.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

The Professional Development Committee presents programs for the faculty about the latest developments in education. The seven faculty members who compose the committee meet once a month and plan their procedures under the guidance of Martin M. Finstad. They encourage discussion among the faculty about problems of the school, gather information for faculty bulletins, arrange for teachers' field courses at universities, and carefully select the material which they present at faculty meetings.

COMMITTEE ON COMMITTEES

The Committee on Committees was instituted to select faculty members for sponsors and committee members to take charge of extra-curricular faculty and student activities. They assign duties to the various committees, and whenever they feel the need of a new organization, they plan its establishment. Miss Mary West is in charge of the committee.

The oak-paneled, fluorescent-lighted Proviso library serves as a pleasant supplement to classroom work in many courses. Students are introduced to it as freshmen and, as juniors and seniors, are encouraged to increase their ability at using a library intelligently. Seniors use it extensively in preparing their term papers.

The library is operated by Miss Dorothea Western and her two assistants, Mrs. Fern Jacobs and Miss Margaret Williams, with the help of a group of student pages who receive excellent training in library work.

Proviso students are indeed fortunate in having access to such a library.

Speech and Hearing Clinic Serves Proviso

In addition to all freshmen and juniors who are tested each year, any student may use the facilities of the clinic. The cause of each case is determined, and treatment is given individually or in small groups.

Mr. Moore is assisted by Mrs. Ann Molnaire, who does routine checking as well as secretarial work. Dr. Irwin G. Spiesman, eye, ear, and nose specialist, and Dr. Ralph Barton, optometrist, donate their services to the clinic.

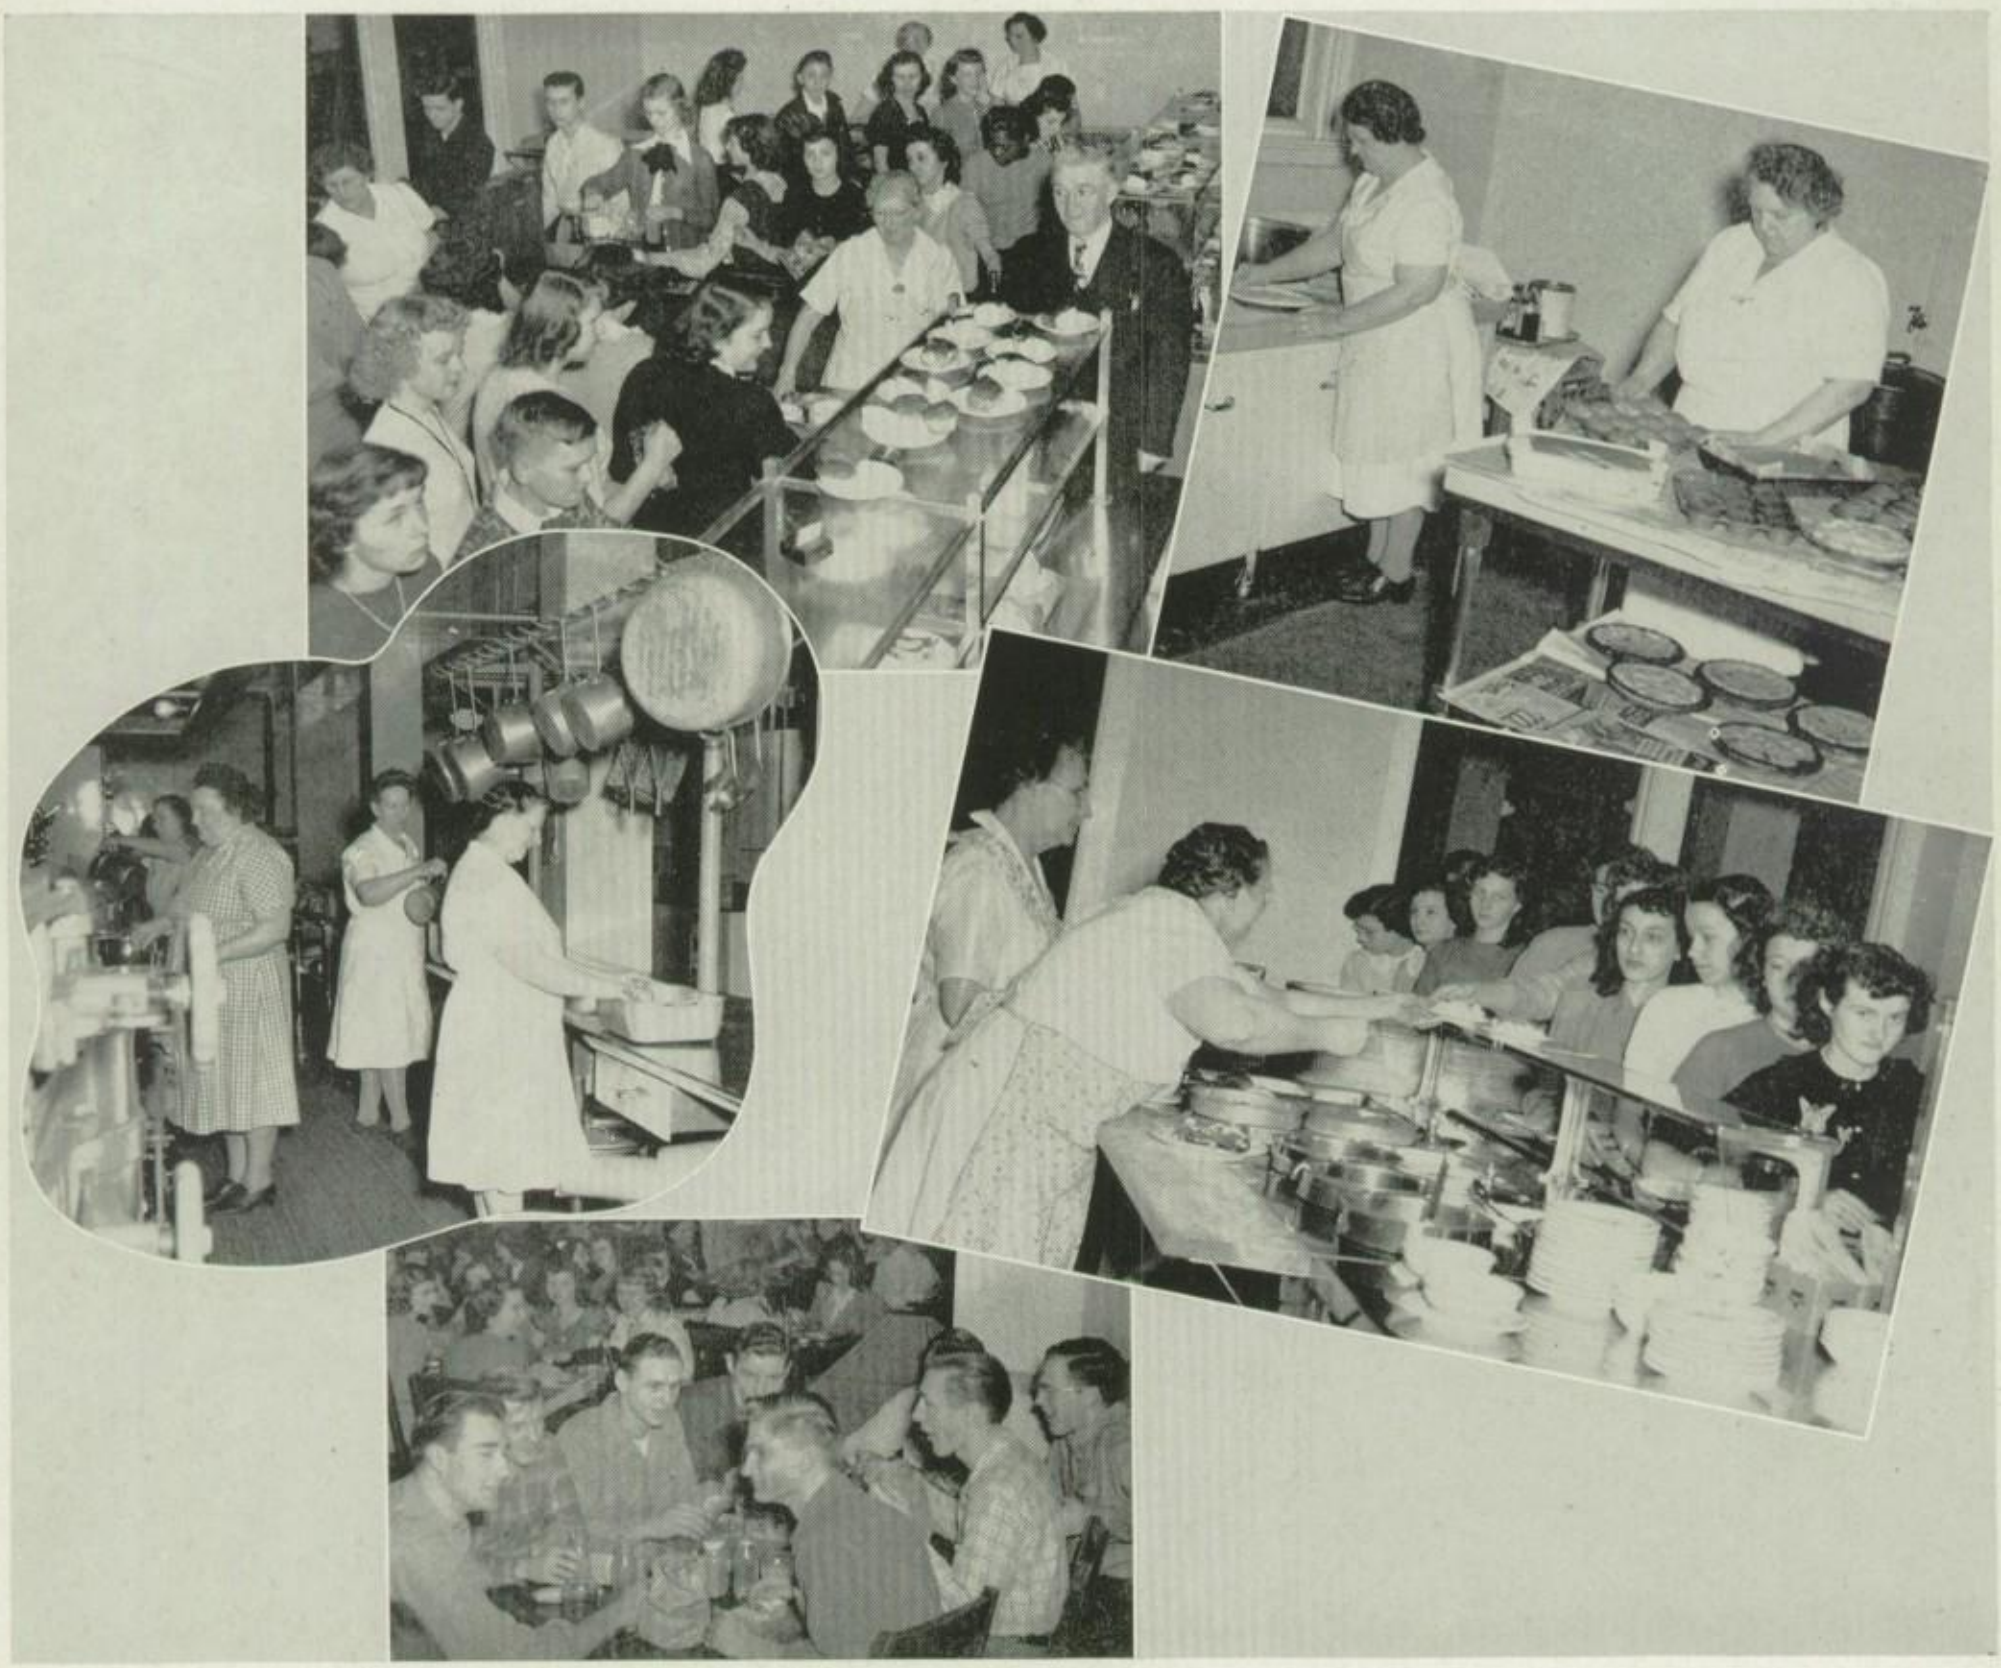
American Education Week

During American Education Week, the theme, "Strengthening Foundations of Freedom through Education," was stressed in schools, churches, and civic organizations of the community.

Proviso students carried messages to churches, women's clubs, and other service groups; local ministers emphasized in their sermons the importance of education. Pertinent reading material was attractively displayed in the library and in the south-corridor cases. Another feature of the week was a large exhibition of mounted photographs depicting diversified opportunities offered to Proviso students. Open House for freshmen and the Articulation Tea concluded a busy week of activity. Miss Winnafred Shepard was general chairman.

Cafeteria—Where Good Fellows Get Together



You can't say Mr. Folan doesn't keep an eye on "his kids."

Oh, to be a food taster in the Proviso kitchen! Can't you just smell those pies?

They must use a powerful lot of elbow grease to keep those pots and pans clean.

I think I'll have the blueplate special. — No, on second thought I'll have a hot dog.

What are the girls listening to so intently? A learned discussion on nuclear physics, perhaps?

CAFETERIA

The inviting aroma of food and the gay chatter of voices give Proviso's cafeteria popular appeal. Everywhere there is an air of friendliness and helpfulness. During the four lunch periods, approximately three thousand students meet here not only to satisfy their appetites, but to exchange friendly hellos and discuss the day's events. With the able assistance of the genial Mr. Folan and his staff, everyone is given proper attention and quick service.

Maintenance of Buildings and Grounds

Mr. Quandt, our able and efficient maintenance superintendent.
Thanks to the machine age, no more coal shoveling backaches.
The matrons, plus their hair dryers are a boon to all Proviso mermaids.
Our intra-mural postman, Herman Boltz, and Jay Betz, boss of the receiving room.
Proviso's all-purpose transportation crew and their busy station wagon.
Bill, Ed, and Otto, Proviso's indispensable trio.
Trusty members of our competent maintenance crew.

Proviso's attractive and clean appearance is the result of the hard work of the maintenance department headed by Raymond C. Quandt. Members of the staff spend many hours each day performing special duties such as heating and lighting the building, cleaning every room and corridor, and operating all the electrical devices used for special assemblies or gatherings in the field house and auditorium. They also care for the athletic fields and the tennis courts in season, as well as for the wide lawns and gardens of a twenty-three acre campus. White-clad matrons help in maintaining the girls' rooms and in dispensing materials for girls' swim classes.

Stream of Knowledge, we are enriched
By that which we seek, as were those
Who panned the gold of the Sierras.
From this stream, each takes his share.
The ardent, enterprising students
Seek the essence of education,
And, in turn, increase the volume
Of the unfathomed River of Learning
By their contributions of wisdom.
Thus is the stream of immortal ideas
Fed by the culture and learning of men.

The '49ers, in the tradition of the 1849ers, were true prospectors at heart. They had among their numbers many who garnered honors and high positions in all lines of school activity. These, it may aptly be said, were the wheels and spokes of the class as it rolled on toward its ultimate goal, graduation.

The lively social calendar of the class included the two mixers, "Ball of the Bells" and "Carousel." These two parties and the beautiful formal prom were planned and attended by juniors and seniors. Talented seniors performed before their own class at a special assembly. At the Tea Dance on Class Day, June 7, seniors exchanged signatures in the beautiful new Provi, which had just made its debut.

The seniors first appeared in the formal array of cap and gown at the Special Service on Sunday evening, June 5.

On the following Thursday, June 9, the gown-clad seniors marched proudly in processional into the fieldhouse auditorium to listen to an inspiring address by Judge Harry W. Fisher and to receive their long-dreamed-of diplomas.

Present Problems and Future Plans

These lasses and their sponsor deserve much credit for the work they've done in making possible the year's social events.

College Day provided an opportunity for upper-classmen to get acquainted with the various colleges and universities.

These sleek seniors appear very nonchalant at the prospect of having their pictures taken for the Provi.

Take a deep breath, Bob! You have a long way to go to beat Charles Atlas! You'll be impressive enough in cap and gown.

These couples at the Mixer aren't camera-shy — they're just reluctant to stop dancing.

The active life of a senior is a thing to be envied by all under-classmen. Rings and caps and gowns . . . a vacation-like excursion to Springfield . . . participation on numerous committees . . . consultation with the various college representatives on College Day . . . picture taking day and the exchange of pal pictures . . . the class parties mixers and Prom . . . ah, the senior year is one well worth remembering.

If We Would Stay Young

Into the heart of the beating world
Are hurled our dreams.
Through the night
We build on.

Yet out of the chaotic days
There strays one dream
And we clutch it tight
And build on.

One dream can keep us young
One dream — held fast
And close to our throbbing hearts.
We take that dream
And set it burning
Until it blazes, through Hate and War,
And the sparks have set fire
To other dreams.

We take that dream and mold it
And chip away the disappointments.
With a new spirit
We build on.

And then,
The dream takes us
And holds us firm 'til we are part of it.
The pounding machines repeat,
"Build on" —
We are young as long as we dream.

"Mary, you're returning home immediately, and you're not seeing this crook again!"

Miss Reid, the director, briefs the cast.

"I'm Constable Small in charge of the case. It's a good thing for him he didn't come here."

"Well, it's too bad someone had to be murdered, but as long as it had to be someone, isn't it nice it was Mr. Temple?"

"Turn around, Patton. I wouldn't shoot even you in the back."

"You mean I have to stay handcuffed to this dame for the rest of my life?"

"That phone's dead."
"So is everything else around here."

Competent Leaders Direct Sophomores

When the sophomores returned to school last fall, they were eager to greet their old friends and to meet new ones. With the resolve to make their class outstanding, they got to work without delay. They bore an air of dignity and a feeling of pride and confidence as they planned their year.

The Sophomore Council, made up of elected homeroom representatives, proved a lively, enthusiastic governing body which had the whole-hearted support of the class.

The perfect seal record of twelve sophomores was recognized at the scholarship assembly in October by the presentation of bronze medals to the illustrious dozen. Thirty-three more were so honored on March 1.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

SOPHOMORE COUNCIL

Middle Row—Jeannette Logan, Barbara Bach, Margaret Schultz, Vivian Dalrymple, Eleanor Neukuckatz, Shirley Healy, Nancy Whitty.

BRONZE MEDAL WINNERS

First Row—Lois Roberts, Lois Peterson, Richard Mladick, Jeannette Colburn, Mary Lou Beatty.

Second Row—George Nickas, Herbert Kuehne.

Third Row—Robert White, Kenneth Schneider, Norma Knudsen, Richard Wiezell, John Ryburn.

Sophomore Committees Prove Enthusiastic

Any organization is as successful as its officers and committees. The sophomore class was fortunate in its choice of both. From early fall until the clean-up committee had finished taking down the decorations in the fieldhouse after the spring party, their enthusiasm never flagged.

Scheduled as one of the season's important events was the sophomore fall party, "The Harvest Festival."

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

Seated—Jeannette Colburn, chairman; Miss Krebs.
Standing—James Claypool, Vivian Dalrymple, Eula Morris.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

FRESHMAN CANDIDATES FOR OFFICERS

Seated—Miss Joyner, Carol Marinaro, Georgia Hollister, Donna Jean Evans, Orrin Peterson, Virginia Amorino.
Standing—Kathrine Scheerer, Donald Dittus, Ronald Welsch, Henry Blickhahn, Patricia Curry, Barbara Boldt, Jacqueline Olef, Mighnon Gunn.

Second Row—Micheline Farina, Carole Wayne, Jacqueline Olef, Donna Brooks, Joanne Krizek.
Third Row—Gerald Sampson, Suzanne Haslett, Betty Bell, Ruth Boss.

On Freshman Day, slightly shaky and in need of reassurance, the freshmen were introduced to their first taste of high school life. After an advisory assembly in which an abundance of advice was given by Dr. Sifert, Mr. Taggart, and the counselors, the newly welcomed freshmen ventured out into the maze of Proviso's halls.

In homeroom their teachers supplied them with the freshman bible and road map — the Blue Book. Thus aided, they found their various study halls and classes. They were quick to recover from their first seizure of awe and wonderment, and after becoming acclimated to the vastness of their surroundings and the strange new atmosphere, they quickly settled into the routine of high school life.

The Class of '52 started from the very beginning to be one of promise and endeavor. A large number of applicants for the class offices volunteered to lead their class, if elected. Homeroom representatives were chosen from the many who expressed a desire to serve in the Freshman Class Council. On November 3, the candidates for offices appeared in a pre-election assembly and pledged their loyalty and service to their classmates. On the following day, November 4, the elections were held.

From start to finish the freshman class was worthy of high praise. It was an example for the freshman classes to come.

Gay Parties Add Zest to Busy First Year

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

Seated—Virginia Grottke, Grace Nickas.

Standing—Miss Phelan, Joanne Krizek, chairman; Suzanne Hasslett.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Seated—Donna Evans, Donna Brooks, Michaline Farina.

Standing—Mr. Kuster, Patricia Pearson.

Seated—Georgia Hollister, Jack Swanson, Miss Lois Robinson.

On their first day of school at Proviso, and until they became well adjusted to the new surroundings, the freshmen were assisted by the "Big Sisters" of the Senior Guard, and the "Big Brothers" of the Senior Hi-Y. On September 28, September 29, and October 1, the Senior Guard sponsored a series of "Big Sister" parties.

In November, the election of officers was held and committees were chosen; the freshmen were now on their own, with all affairs being planned and carried out by the Freshman Class Council under the guidance of the class sponsor, Miss Eleanor Ward.

Counseling parties highlighted by games, cokes, and popcorn balls were held. All freshmen, many accompanied by their parents, returned to school in the evening on November 9. The occasion was Open House when parents became acquainted with Proviso's schedule, and observed the manner in which homeroom and class periods were conducted.

On April 4, the freshmen again visited the auditorium to attend their class assembly. An entertaining address entitled, "So You Don't Like Poetry," was given by the guest speaker, Norman Coates Webster.

Proviso's youngest class held its spring party, the Tenderfoot Twirl, on April 22. This, the freshmen's final class activity of the year, was a great success and something they will long remember.

Athletics

When, after a long day's journey,
The covered wagons stopped to rest
Beside a wide blue river or cool mountain lake,
Young men raced to the edge of the water,
Dove in, and swam into the sunset.
And there were many lively contests:
With power and ease, eager youngsters batted
Their crude balls; and men with strong-muscled
Bodies ran and wrestled, or pitched horseshoes
At an iron post, always striving to win.
In today's gymnasiums and on the playing fields
We engage in these and other sports;
We feel the same keen pleasure in fair play.

Varsity and Jay-Vee Pirate

PROVISO 13 — BOSSE 0

Proviso's football season opened under the arc lights Friday night, September 17, with the Pirates having a rather easy time subduing Bosse High of Indiana. The Pirates scored both touchdowns in the first half, after which neither team could do much; however, the boys had more than enough points to win.

PROVISO 6 — WAUKEGAN 6

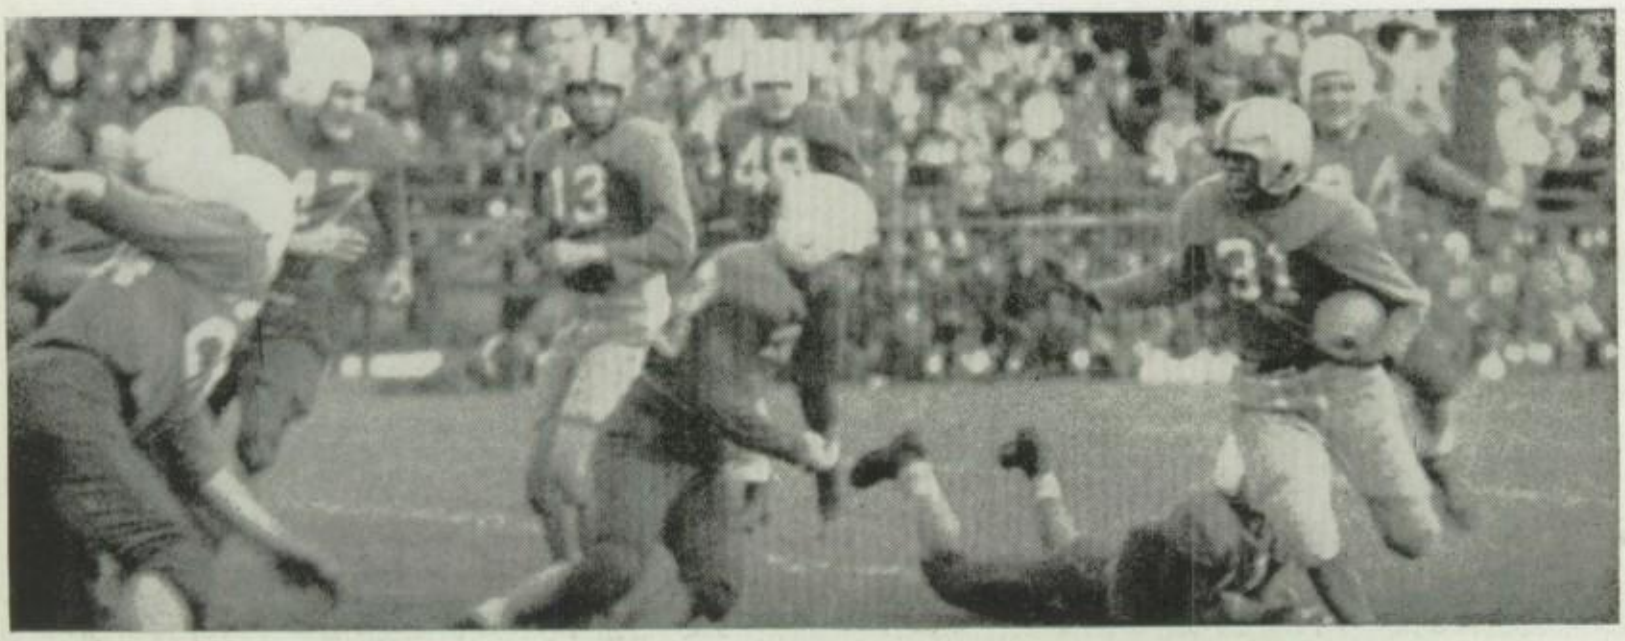
In their first league game, Proviso's Pirates tied the Bulldogs from Waukegan 6-6. Outplayed in the first half, the Pirates came back to tie and almost to win, but they could not get up quite enough steam to push the ball over.

PROVISO 6 — BLOOM 7

The Pirates lost a heartbreaker in their second game of the season. With but three minutes to go, Proviso was leading 6-0. Then two consecutive fifteen yard penalties and a blocked kick gave the ball to the Trojans on Proviso's one yard line. The Trojans scored on the next play and their try for the point was good, giving them a 7-6 victory.

PROVISO 7 — EVANSTON 14

The Pirates fought valiantly against Evanston, but this was one game in which the Wildcats were not to be denied. The score was tied at the end of the first half, but Evanston came back in the last quarter to march 77 yards for the winning touchdown.



Third Row—Coach Puplis, Coach Matte, Coach Kassel, Ryan, Herhold, Schubert, Duensing, Kunes, Hopkins, Bennett, Senne, Jellissen, Brophy, Coach Chambers, Coach Rattenbury.

Fight Through Tough Season

PROVISO 6 — NEW TRIER 13

Leaving home ground for the first time, Proviso's Pirates traveled to Winnetka where they dropped a tough battle to New Trier's Terriers. Fighting hard, the Bucs were only one point behind the Terriers until the closing minutes when a Proviso pass was intercepted. Taking advantage of this opportunity, the Terriers scored again just as the game ended.

PROVISO 13 — THORNTON 26

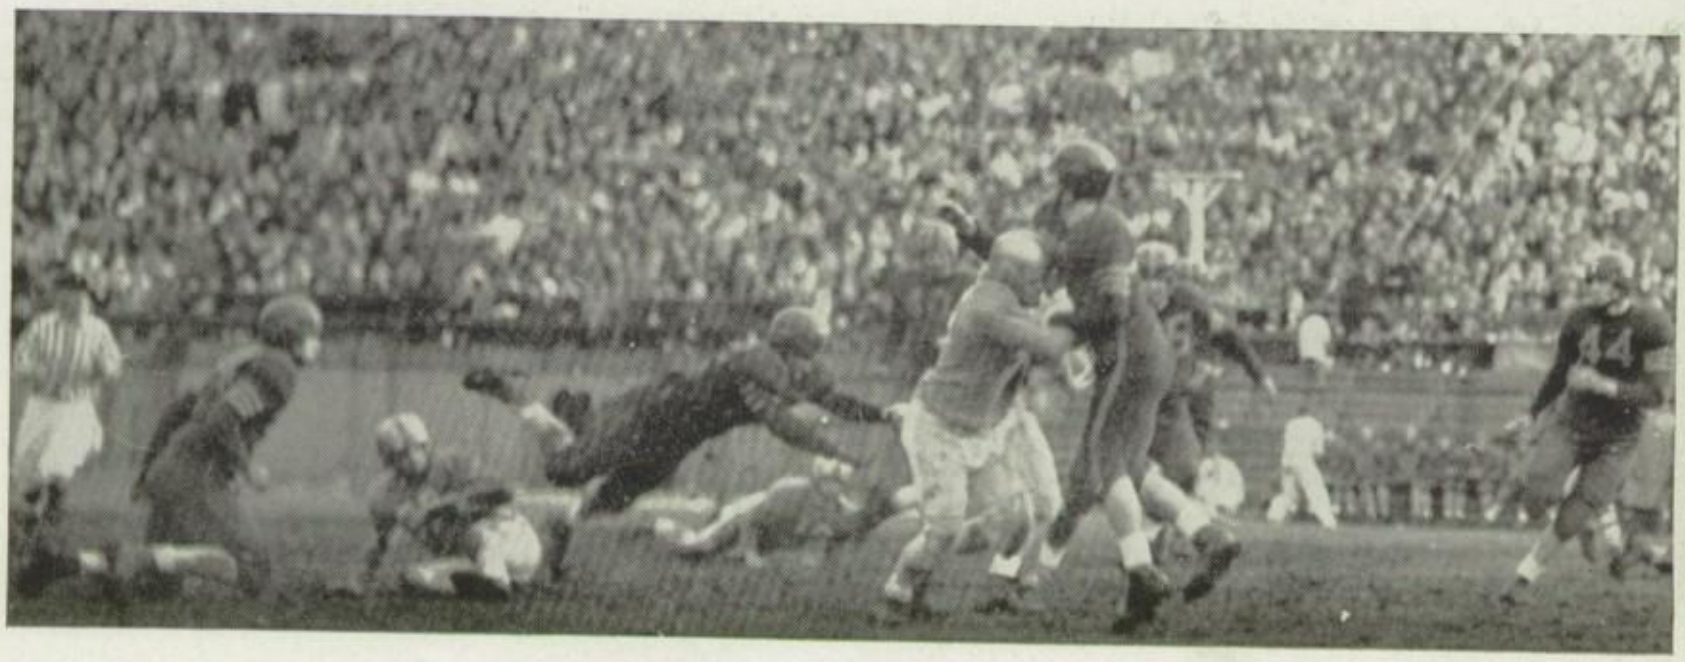
Traveling to Thornton for their fourth and final night game, the Proviso Pirates met the Flying Clouds in a fast, exciting game. It looked as if the Bucs were going to pull this game into their win column until the final quarter when the powerful plunges by the Thorntonites cut open Proviso's line and clinched the victory.

PROVISO 21 — MORTON 13

Destined for success, the Pirates scored their first league win by defeating the Mustangs of Morton 21-13. Trailing 13-7 at the half, Proviso came back hard and scored the tying and winning touchdowns in the final period. This victory lifted Proviso out of the league basement, a position to which they never returned.

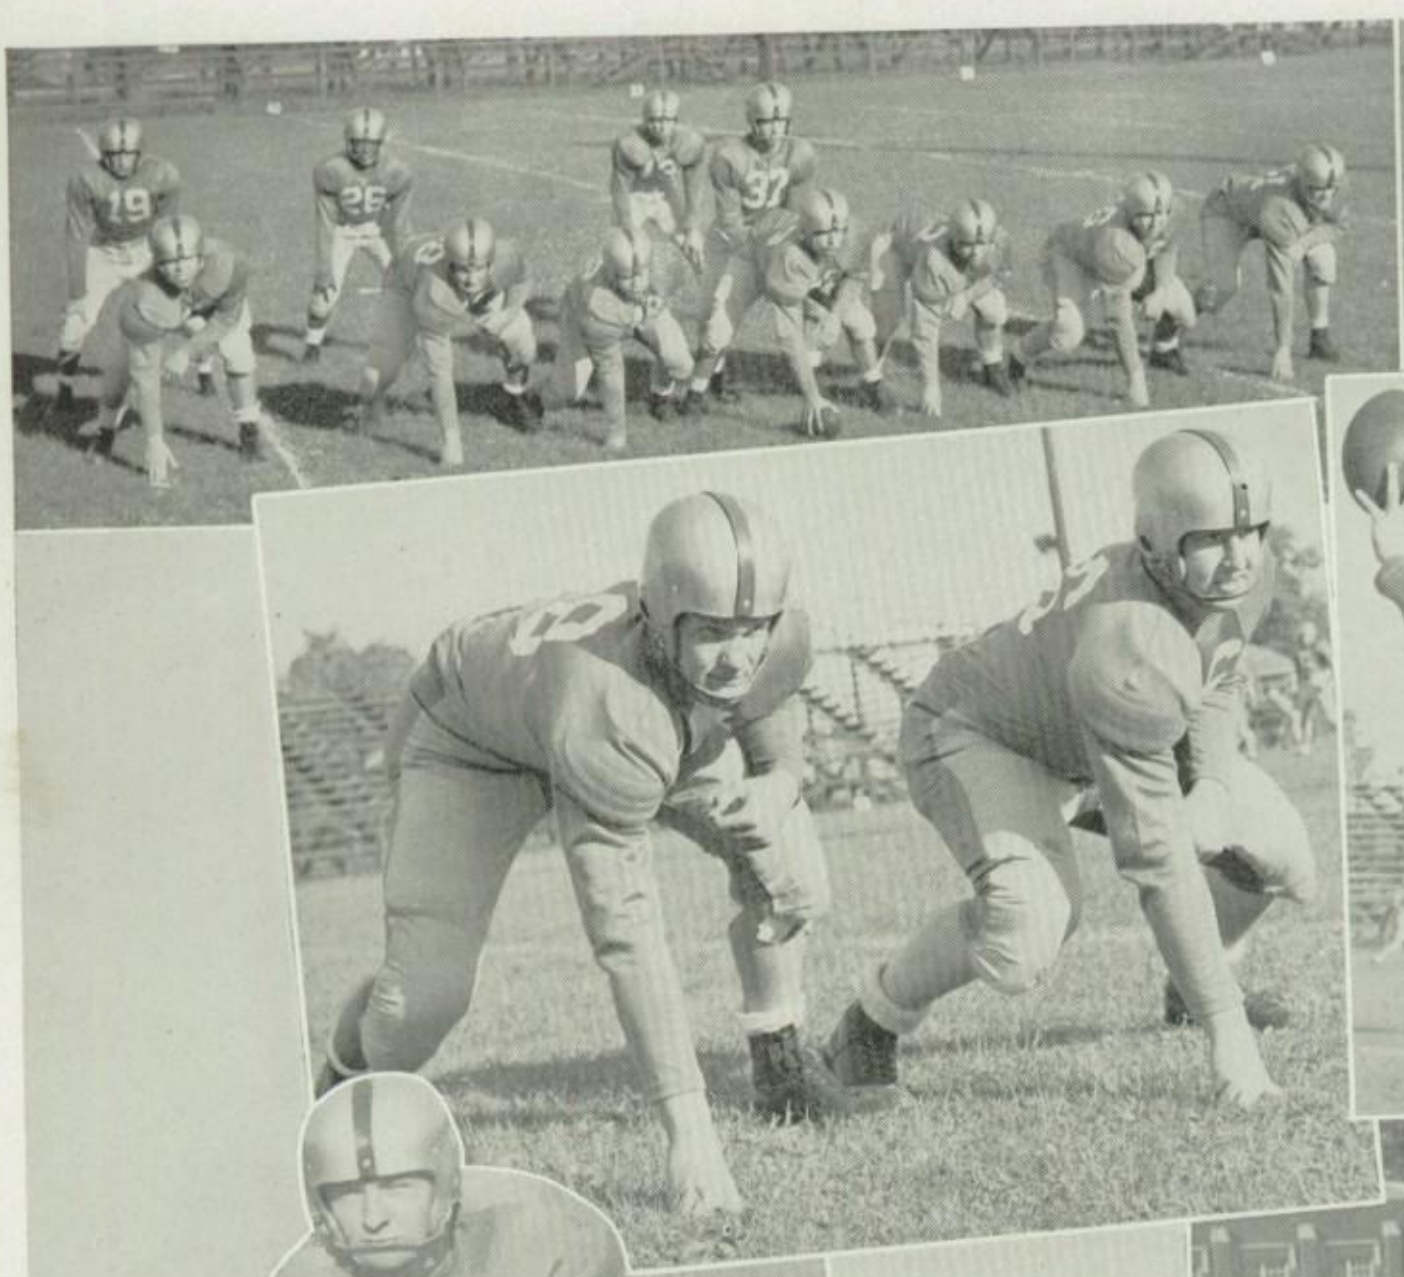
PROVISO 7 — OAK PARK 27

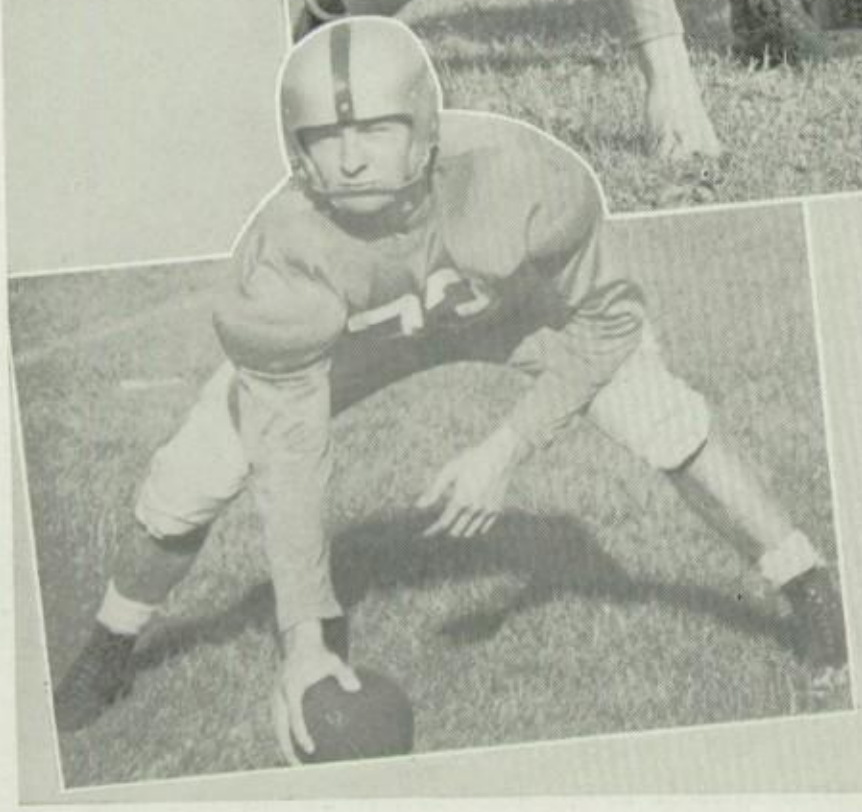
In their final game, the Pirates took on the Oak Park Huskies. The Bucs, playing a wonderful heads-up game, outshone the Huskies and had a tie score of 7-7 at half time. Oak Park, however, came back hard and, in spite of all Proviso could do, triumphed 27-7.



Candid Shots of Bucs in Action

Under the guiding tutelage of Coaches Chambers and Rattenbury, the Buc Jay-Vees finished the 1948 season with three victories, one tie, and three losses. The Pirate third-year men started the schedule by whipping Bloom 6-0, followed by a victory over Waukegan, but by using an ineligible player, they forfeited to the Bulldogs 1-0. The Evanston Wildkits fought the J. V. gridmen to an 18-18 tie after which New Trier gave the Bucs their first real defeat, 20-0. The Flying Clouds of Thornton also fell to the mighty Jay-Vees 24-18, but the following week Oak Park dealt the final blow; the Pirates bowed to a 14-6 score at the hands of the Parkers.





Sophomores Finish Successful Season

Second Row—Collins, Haterman, Seno, G.; Thamm, Stensby, Keiner, French, Funston, Adair, J.; Lesmann, manager; White, manager.

Third Row—Coach Wrobke, Coach Slimmer, Radin, Hairston, Brown, Lyding, Nardulli, Miller, Koch, Franklin, Di Cello, Trobiani.

Boasting the strongest sophomore aggregation Proviso has seen for years, Coaches Lou Slimmer, Floyd Wrobke, and Sam Storby saw the second-year gridmen to six victories. The sophs tied the Evanston eleven, and lost their only game to the hard-hitting New Trier team.

Before the initial Proviso-Bosse varsity tilt, September 17, the sophs made their debut by whipping the tough city team, Tilden Tech, 14-6. Again the following week, under the Proviso arcs, the gridmen trounced Bloom of the South Suburban League 20-0. In the Suburban League opener, the Waukegan Bulldogs also fell to the mighty Bucs by a score of 9-6. Evanston, in a hard local contest, tied the second-yearmen 7-7 and, at Winnetka the next week, the New Trier Terriers handed the sophs their first defeat 13-0. Against the Mustangs of Morton, the Bucs again were victorious, beating the Red-and-White 26-7. The Flying Clouds of Thornton fell 20-6 to the Pirates and, at the last game of the season, the sophs gave the Oak Park spectators something to remember for two years.

Spirited by gain after gain and touchdown after touchdown, the soph Pirates atomized the underclass Huskies Saturday afternoon, November 6, on the Parkers' gridiron.

Scoring every quarter and twice in the third, the Bucs swamped the Huskies by an overwhelming 33-0 score. Don Lindell started the scoring spree early in the first quarter by plunging through center.

In the second quarter after an aerial by Marshall Hairston to Jack Schuchmann, Ray Trobiani plunged over for the second score. Ray again took the spotlight as he sprinted 30 yards to pay dirt. Alonzo Brown then went over on a center plunge off right guard. In the fourth quarter, the Pirates scored again, ringing up an impressive final last game score of 33-0.

The touchdowns for the season were shared by the following boys: Alonzo Brown, 8; Marshall Hairston, 3; Ray Trobiani, 2; Norm Kiener, 2; Fritz DelPercio, 1; Bob Funston, 1; Don Lindell, 1. Richard Farinelli kicked 13 extra-points, and Marshall Hairston made two conversions.

The Game

1. Packed to the press-box — a typical scene at Proviso's football games!

2. "P" for Proviso. Let's give those hard-working band members a rousing cheer and three rahs!!!

3. These girls of distinction have switched from football to half-time refreshments.

4. Hey! The game's down this a-way! You shouldn't let your mind wander, Junior!

5. Don't look so embarrased, boys — the coach has to brag about you once in a while, you know!

6. Please, Harry, give with a cheer, not an Al Jolson routine.

7. Two hundred pounds of prevention is worth any amount of cure in football language.

A large squad of eager boys, under the able guidance of Coaches C. E. Bryan and R. H. Rice, started their Proviso gridiron careers last fall. This squad, one of the best that Proviso has turned out in years, kept the hopes of the future football fans of Proviso alive by climbing the ladder of success and taking the Suburban League championship. This team won six games, tied one, and lost none.

In their opening game, the Baby Bucs showed power and speed as they easily trounced Bloom 35-0. In their second game, Waukegan bowed to them 12-0; and then, while riding high, Evanston scored in the last thirty seconds to tie, 6-6. However, recovering from this blow, the Pirates fought off a determined New Trier team to win 21-12; and, on the following Saturday, they crushed Morton 27-0. Then, continuing their victory march, they spilled Thornton 21-6; and, in their final game, humbled the not-so-mighty Oak Parkers 27-0.

The touchdowns were made by the following boys: Curtis Grace, 9; Leon Pauley, 6; Nunzio Sacchetta, 3; Richard Burrell, 2; James Sanders, 1; Frank Grady, 1. Six boys also scored the extra points. Leon Pauley accounted for 7, John Frederick made 4, Curtis Grace and Nunzio Sacchetta made 2; and Albert Gatti and Frank Grady made 1.

Back Row—Wager, Pomer, Boyer, Migalski, Maka, Ritter, Socka, Lebonitz, Mundinger, Petroplus, Scalzo, Englund, King.

In the first meet of the varsity Cross Country season, Bloom scored 21 points, Proviso, 40, and Riverside, 108. The Bucs then lost to Schurz, 19-47. In a triangular meet with Oak Park and La Grange, the Pirates took a third. Oak Park totaled 19 points to Proviso's 36, and the Lions piled up 16, against Proviso's 41. In the last meet of the season, the harriers lost a heartbreaker to Evanston, 25-30.

The frosh-sophs, winning all three meets, fared somewhat better than the varsity. First Bloom fell, 29-19, and then Oak Park and La Grange each dropped one. The Pirates scored the first five men, a perfect score, to whip the Lions and Parkers, 15-57 and 15-69.

Varsity Pirates Battle Valiantly

Middle Row—Elbert, Beaven, Paulson, Vasos, McCuiston.
Back Row—Coach Hartley, Most, Colvett, Pahlow, Bennett, Kunes, Moccio.

The varsity cagers finished the 1948-1949 season with the same bitter losses as in former years. Though well trained by Coach Joseph Hartley, the Bucs won only two games during the entire season.

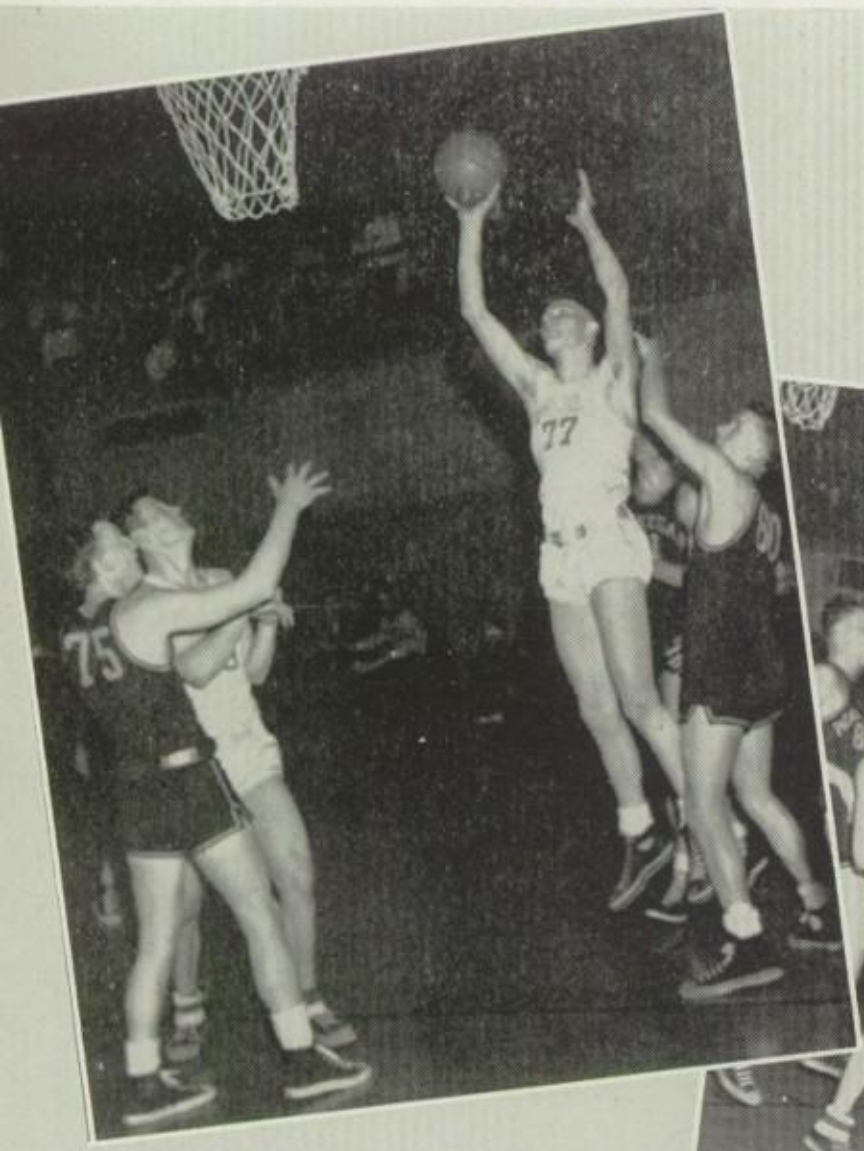
The basketeers opened their home season on the local hardwood by crushing the hard-fighting quintet from York, 47-30, after bowing to Elgin, 74-45. Elgin, one of the strongest teams in the state, lost cut in the state preliminaries by one point.

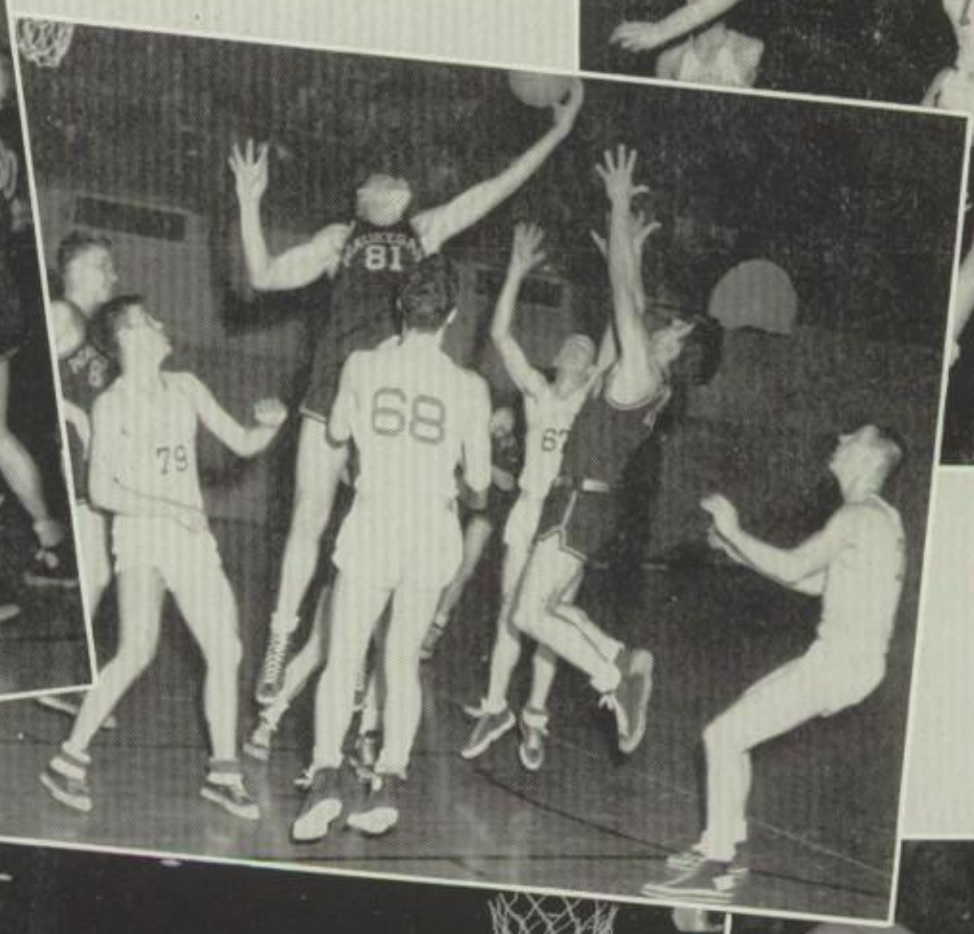
Thornton of Harvey handed the Bucs their third defeat with a 40-32 score. Then Highland Park and Oak Park took their toll with 52-40 and 51-29 scores.

Travelling to New Trier, the Buc five downed the Green Wave for the first Proviso league victory. The game ended with a close 39-33 score, but at least the Pirates were on the winning end. Morton then beat the cagers 51-43 on the home floor. Another defeat followed, this time at the hands of the Oak Park Huskies. The Parkers ran up a score of 67 points to the Bucs' 46. At the last league game, Waukegan netted 80 points on the Proviso hardwood, to the Bucs' 61.

In the annual post-season junior-senior game in which members of the varsity squad participated, the seniors came off with the low end of the score. The strong junior team of Ray Moccio, Ray George, Bill Colvett, Fred Jellisen, and Frank Petersohn out-scored the senior by 18 points. Bob McCuiston, Warren Hurtt, Phil Elbert, Ralph Pahlow, and Mickey Erdal on the senior team saw the score rise to the final count of 65-47.

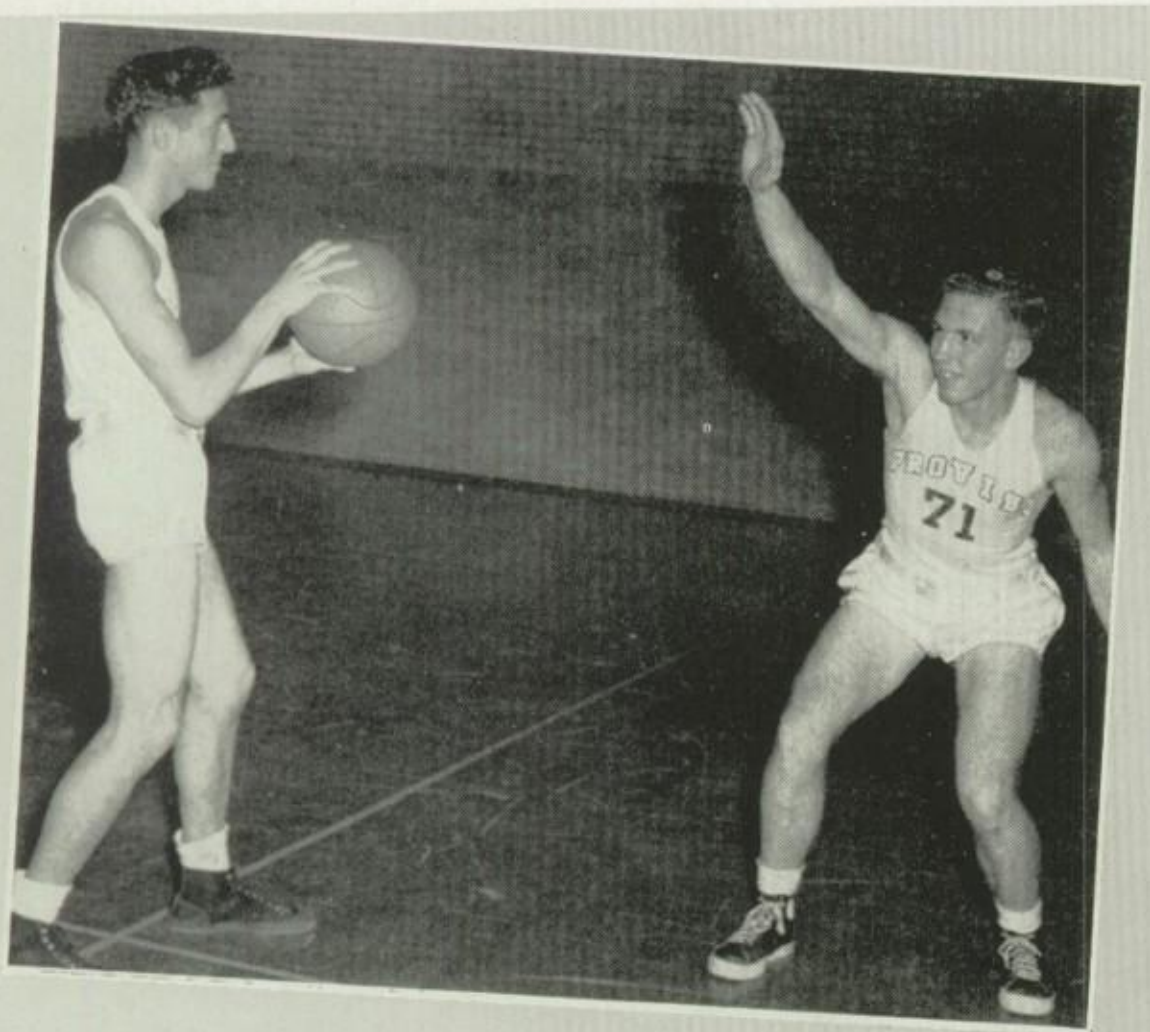
Shots of Pirates in Conflict





Basketball games offer a variety of sights—some graceful, some rough; some breath-taking, others heartbreaking. The Pirates this year played hard and strove for the win, but were often turned back in the closing moments of the games. The action shots shown on this page offer examples of the agility, hard play, and sincere effort of this year's team.

Jay-Vees . . . Champions in Their League



Proviso's Jay-Vee basketball team wound up a glorious season this year with 13 wins and 1 defeat. This team, coached by Rex Griep, seemed of winning caliber from the very start. However, after rolling along without a defeat for some time, they ran up against Waukegan's Junior Bulldogs and were defeated, 44-37. Then, returning to their winning stride, they swept all opposition aside and climbed up to a first place tie with Waukegan so that the final game decided the championship. In this game, the Juniors showed superlative play as they turned the tables and defeated the former victors by the almost identical score of 44-38. This game not only gave them the championship, but also showed that they were determined to be at the top of the standings no matter who thought otherwise.

All the Junior games were very fast and exciting, and if they continue in this way Proviso's fans should really see some great varsity games next year when the competition becomes even keener.

Honestly, the Jay-Vees didn't win by guarding each other; this is a typical practice shot.

JAY-VEES

Front Row—George, Colvett, Moccio.

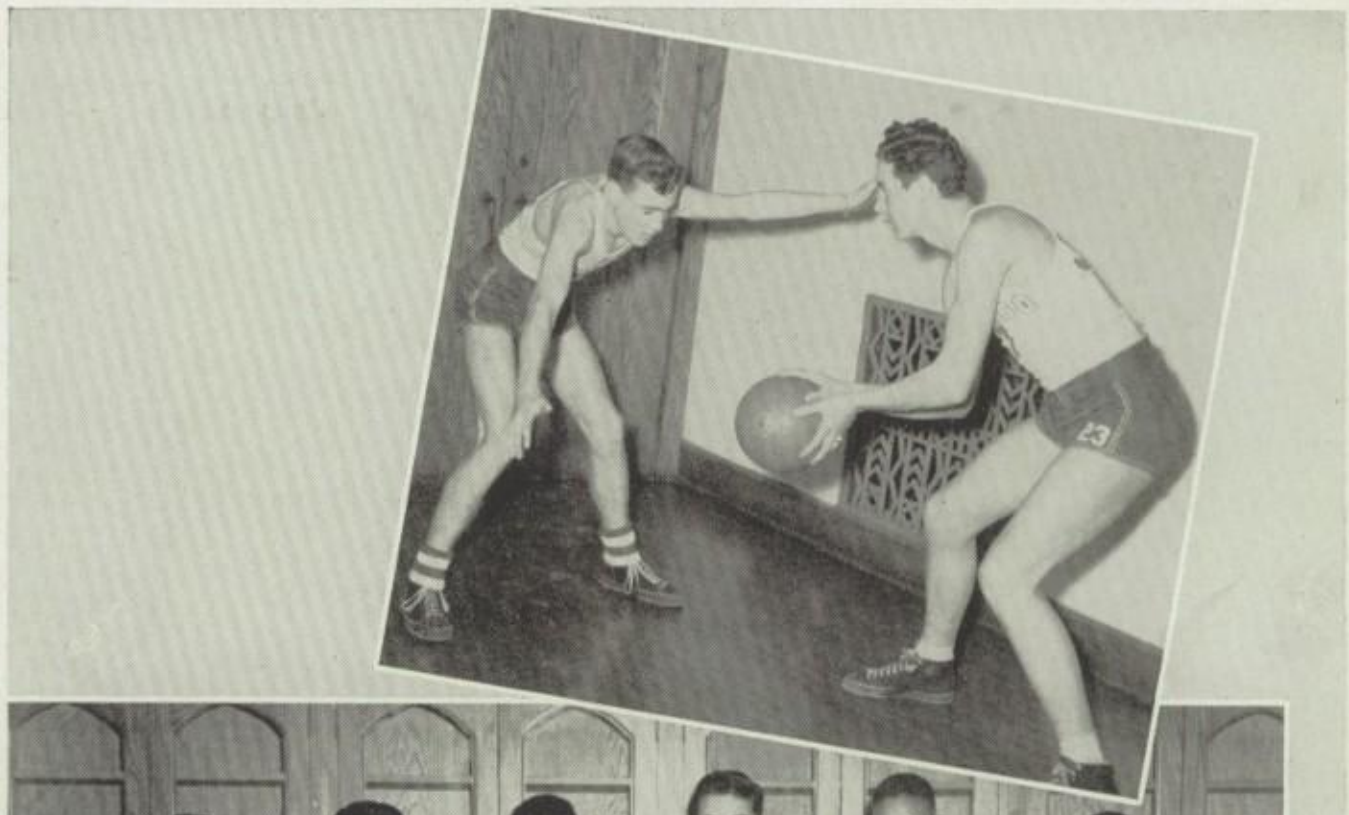
Fresh . . . Soph

John Adair shows Jack Shuchmann how a Pirate should guard his opponent.



SOPHOMORE

The Sophomore basketeers, under the able guidance of Coach V. R. Kent, tied for second place in the Suburban League with eleven wins and five losses. Elgin, Highland Park, Morton, and Waukegan were the only teams strong enough to defeat the Sophomore five, who have shown a will to win which should put them on top in the next couple of years.

FRESHMAN

The Baby Bucs finished a glorious basketball season with a record of eleven victories and only one defeat. La Grange was the only team to beat the first-year men by the close score of 41-39. Dundee, New Trier, Morton, and Oak Park each fell twice to the mighty Pirates. The mainstays of the freshman team include the following: Frank Grady, Jim Sanders, Curt Grace, Bill Osborn, and Don Bruhns.

Swimmers Enjoy Another Victorious Season

The Proviso varsity swim team, coached by George Hagen, had another successful season this year, losing only two meets.

New Trier and Lane Tech were the only schools strong enough to defeat the mermen. These same two schools also were the only ones able to finish ahead of Proviso in the State swim meet, and New Trier was the only team to beat Proviso in the Suburban League meet. One record after another fell as this strong Buc tank-team rolled along. The team's big three, comprised of Lee Anderson, Jerry Holan, and Russell Thomas, broke many pool records, and Holan, to make the season perfect, set new Suburban League and State records. Others outstanding on the varsity team were Ron Hinding, Ralph Hanson, Dick Pearce, Bill MacKeon, George Marriatt, Jerry Salo, and Chuck Dillner.

The frosh-soph swim team won six meets, lost four, and finished fourth in the Suburban League meet. The freshman team, by defeating Niles in one dual meet and finishing third in the Niles Invitational, showed Coach Hagen that he will have good teams during the next few years.

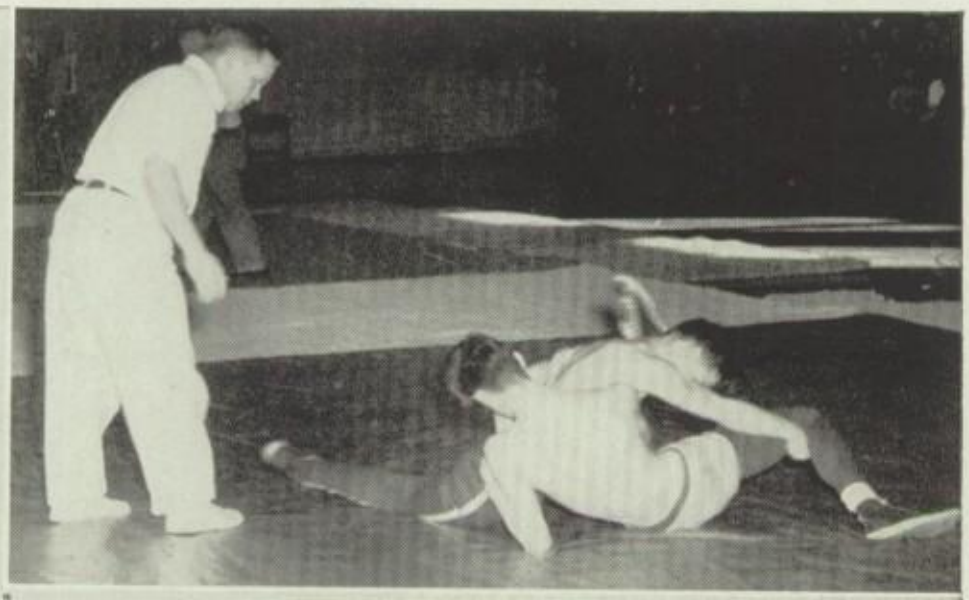
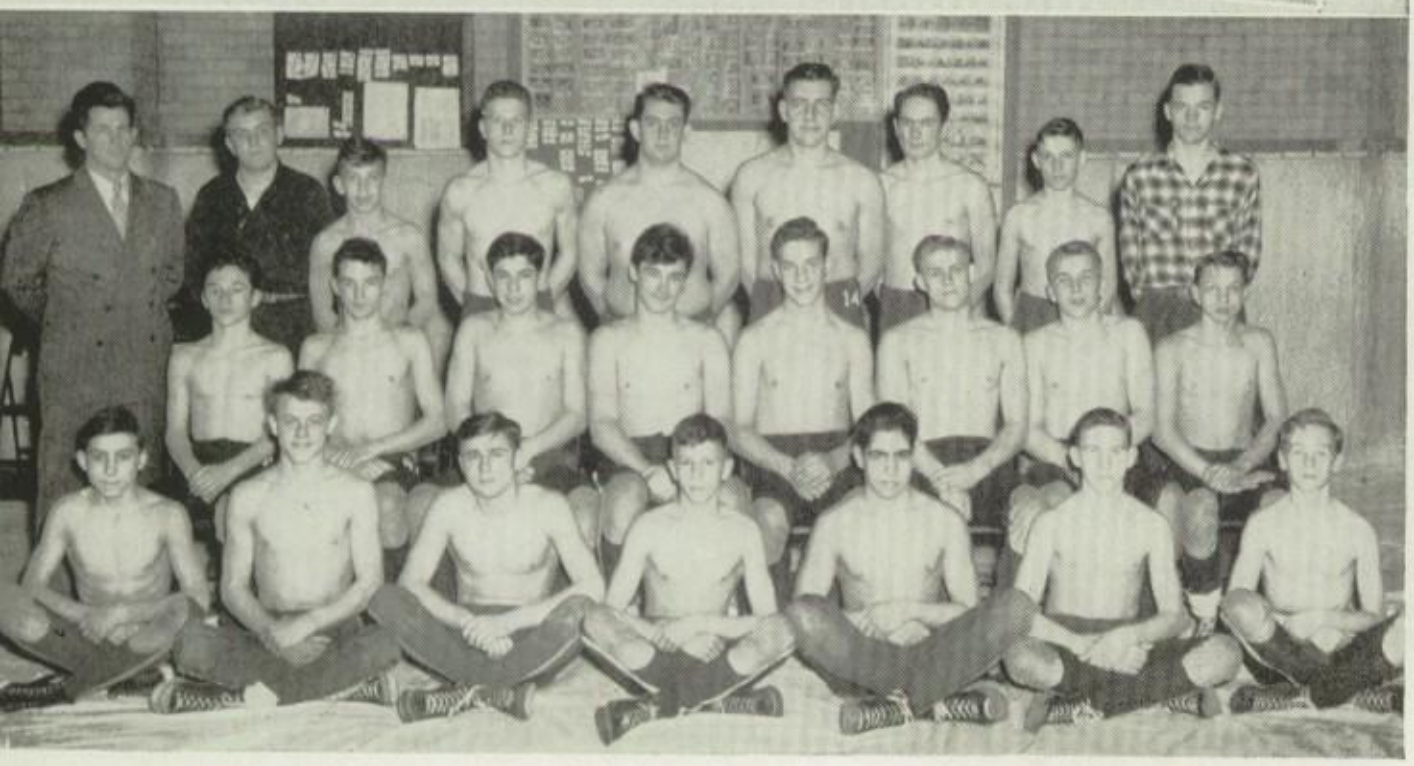
Wrestlers . . . Again Suburban Champions

Winning eleven meets and losing only three, the Proviso wrestling team finished a highly successful season. The Bucs snatched the Illinois State wrestling sectional, held on the local mats, from six other schools.

The matmen started the season off with a victory over La Grange, 27-10. Then, journeying to Clinton, Iowa, the grapplers met their first defeat, 24-19. Elgin was the Bucs' next victim. The Watchmen fell twice to the mighty Pirate steamroller, 25-12, and 25-10.





The pinboys played host to the city wrestling champions, Tilden Tech, and proceeded to steal one more victory with a score of 22-12. Traveling to Thornton, the Bucs set back the Harveyites, 26-10. Next, as the guests of East Rockford, the groaners won two meets; the varsity, 34-5, and the jay-vee, 40-7.

Both Davenport, Iowa, and Rock Island beat the wrestlers by close scores: Davenport, 18-16, and Rock Island, 17-16. Then, getting over the two defeats, the matmen gained three more victories in dual meets, and also won the sectional. Waukegan fell to Proviso, 35-2; Evanston, 39-3; and Riverside-Brookfield, 33-5.

BASEBALL

A good mixture of veterans and newcomers presented themselves to Coaches Appleton and Wrobke this spring. The team has enough power, dependability, and depth in every position to make good competition for the other high schools in the league. The infield, composed of Ray George at third, Bert Abbs at shortstop, Robert Trantham at second, and Warren Hurtt at first or second, is fast; and all the boys have had at least two years' experience. The probable fly-chasers are Bob Bennett, Jim Fedro, and Don Niekamp; but Marshall Hairston and Bob Scheyli are also in the running. Ralph Pahlow, the Bucs' most promising hurler, will probably do most of the pitching; but Beaven, veteran catcher, will also catch balls thrown by Bob Luhr, Dick Motzer, Don Nicholson, and Bill Plourde. Fred Martin will replace Beavan in the lineup should another catcher be necessary.

LIFESAVING

A large squad of boys who qualified as competent swimmers came out for lifesaving this year. This course, under Coach Hagen's guidance, taught water safety as well as emergency first aid, and prepared the boys for jobs as life guards in local pools. They have their first opportunity to gain practical experience after taking the course, when they serve as guards during swim classes. After the successful completion of five weeks of valuable instruction regarding the rescuing of drowning individuals and the application of artificial resuscitation, members of the class were awarded Junior and Senior Red Cross Lifesaving Certificates.

Tennis and Golf Teams Look Promising

TENNIS

Under the watchful eye of Coach James Bennett, the racketeers have started what they hope will be a successful season. Back again are veterans Fred Most, Jack Grupe, Bill Grosser, Dick Cozad, and Peter Walton. From the sophomore team come Rod Thorson, Alan Kent, Clarence Peterson, Bob Scallon, and Richard Colt. As the Provi goes to press, it appears as if the varsity tennis team should have an exceptionally good season.

GOLF

The Proviso golfers have a challenging schedule this year, but they seem to have the material necessary to come out of all contests with a good record. They have spirit, dependability, and a knowledge of the courses which should put them out ahead if favorable weather permits play. This team has several good returning veterans and a crop of new candidates that should give the extra support necessary. Bill Roderick and Richard Davies, the main veterans, will probably pace the team.

Cindermen Streak Through Eventful Season

Front Row—Gaudio, Green, Piotter, Gatlin, Pearson, Batman.

Second Row—Erdal, Gillespie, Josey, Sharp, Beyer, Davis, Ryan.

Third Row—Coach Matte, Williams, Harrington, Anderson, Karr, Cisek, D. Snyder, Kapost, manager.

Second Row—Florest, Adair, Re, Armstrong, Beyer, Stahler, Schanks, Iwasyk, Schlau, Osbron, Pile.

Third Row—Coach Griep, Till, Thamm, Greene, Brown, Durrant, Claypool, Gilesper, Kallas, Hinkle, manager.

With the return of such veterans as Pete Malz, star dash man; Marvin Erdal, quarter-miler; and Gene Pepich, speedy half-miler; and with an up-and-coming fresh-soph track team with such runners as John Adair, John Schlau, and Jim Claypool, it appears, as the Provi goes to press, that the Proviso track team should have a successful season.

During the indoor season, the Buc cindermen beat Steinmetz, 101-17; Schurz, 50-45; and Austin, the city champions, who fell before the mighty thin-clads, 58½-36½. The fresh-soph team spilled Austin, 53⅓-33⅔, but fell to Schurz, 60½-24½.

Pete Malz, relay and dash man, is in his fourth season with the Proviso track team. Outstanding even as a freshman, Pete has gone a long way, and this season is sure to be at his best. Larry Sharp and Leon Josey, hurdlers, are in good form for both the high and low jumps. Glen Piotter, fresh from the sophomore team, is the Bucs' star miler. With Marvin Erdal, Al Gaudio, and Bob Stendel running the quarter-mile Proviso has almost a shutout in that event. Gene Pepich, who ran the half-mile in 2:09.3, broke the field house record for that event in the meet with Austin.

Activities

There was music 'round the campfire—
Melodies sung to the strumming of a banjo,
The rippling notes of a boy's harmonica,
Or the tinny tunes of a squeezebox.
An old musician fluted songs of home,
Invoking silent longing in the hearts of some.
In gayer mood, laughing young folks
Danced to merry, lilting tunes of the fiddler.
And so it was, across the plains and mountains,
The forty-niners took new breath and heart
As they relaxed, diverted from their tasks.
And so it is that in our hurried lives
We need activities in which we lose ourselves
To gain new strength and fervor for our work.

The highest achievement which can be attained by any Proviso student is election to the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools. The lofty ideals of this society are symbolized by its insignia, a gleaming gold keystone and torch.

Only those juniors and seniors whose scholarship meets the required standard are eligible to be considered for membership by vote of the faculty on the basis of character, leadership, and service. The juniors must be in the upper fifteen per cent of their class; the seniors, in the upper third.

The induction of new members takes place during the impressive candlelight ceremony presented in assembly.

Proviso has one of the few chapters in this nation-wide organization which sponsor activities. Among the society's annual projects are the sponsorship of the N. H. S. Library, the N. H. S. banquet, and the faculty tea.

Closely in keeping with the ideas and ideals of American democracy and self-government are the characteristics and functions of the Student Council. Elected by ballot of the entire student community, its members embody the policy of student participation in the administration of our school.

Headed by a president and an executive cabinet, which consists of the ten standing committee chairman and the two other officers, this organization cooperates with the faculty in the enforcement of school regulations, and promotes friendly teacher-student relations.

The Council's activities and achievements are many during the year. In keeping with the traditions of our school, it carries on many established functions such as the sale af activity tickets and student directories, the sponsorship of cheer leaders, pep assemblies, and of the school monitor system, as well as the supervision of school elections. This year, a mock presidential election organized by the Council met with great acclaim by the student body.

Council Committees Promote Activities

The Student Council, a group whose main purpose is to unify Proviso, assigns activities to each of ten committees: Student Welfare, to supervise assemblies; Ways and Means, to have charge of raising funds for various Council projects; Service, to have charge of the student directory and noon-hour recreation; Traffic, to supervise hall monitors; Citizenship, to conduct school elections and the Student Council induction assembly; Activities, to have charge of student activity tickets; Scholarship, to issue medals and honors to qualified students; Safety, to decrease school accidents; Public Relations, to publicize Council activities; and Loyalty, to encourage school spirit.

Council Planners Provide Funds and Fun

The activities of the Student Council provide a means for students to get together and enjoy themselves. Often they serve the additional purpose of raising funds, which in turn make possible future activities.

A mock presidential election, which was organized and conducted by the Council, was eagerly participated in by the student body, and proved a valuable and practical lesson in citizenship.

Selling pencils with football schedules engraved on them proved one of its most productive means for raising funds.

One of the school's outstanding and widely attended social events was a Council-sponsored informal dance, "The 22nd Twirl."

Assisting the officers and homeroom representatives with advice based on experience were the carry-over members of the Council, who were chosen in recognition of their past services, as well as for their enthusiasm and constant interest in the affairs of the Student Council.

At the impressive flower ceremony in May, 1948, the new Girls' League officers and members of the Senior Guard pledged to tend well the "Garden of Proviso."

The League, directed by the three women counselors, makes Proviso a happier place with its formal teas, informal chocolate chats, pal parties, Mother-Daughter banquet, Fiesta Frolic, Bow Week, and the Christmas doll project.

All League members profit, not only by happy associations and friendships, but by social training as well. All their memories will be richer for having participated in the activities of this organization.

HISTORY OF PROVISO HI-Y

Hi-Y began in Proviso in October, 1919. During its first year it was sponsored by the Oak Park Y.M.C.A. In its second year, however, it acquired its first faculty sponsor, E. L. Moyer. The major activity consisted of a study of vocational opportunities. Speakers addressed the members on various professions and granted interviews.

This arrangement continued for three years. During the years of '22, '23, and '24, Proviso had no Hi-Y club. In 1925, however, the movement again had its representatives in the form of a junior and a senior club, sponsored by H. E. Carr and R. W. McGill, respectively.

In the following years, the programs were expanded by adding such features as an annual father and son banquet and various inter-club conferences. In 1933, the Oak Park-Proviso Boys' Inter-church Conference was established.

By 1934, growth in numbers necessitated the organizing of a second junior club. Mr. Stubbs, Mr. Moelk, and Mr. Adair assisted as sponsors at this time. The year 1937 boasted five clubs, two junior and three senior, headed by a faculty Hi-Y committee with Mr. Bullington as chairman and Mr. Dillner as administrative counselor.

In 1940, when the all-school enrollment reached its peak, the Hi-Y clubs also boasted of their largest membership. During that year there were seven clubs, representing all four years of high school. Because a need for an inter-club organization to co-ordinate the work of all clubs was felt, the Hi-Y Council, with representatives from each club, was established.

This over-all organization has continued to the present time. The main lines of development have been a steady expansion of club activities and an increase in services rendered to the school and the community.

YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

Proviso's five Hi-Y Chapters held their first general meeting for the year on October 11, in the social room. The high light of this meeting was the installation of all Hi-Y officers and the appearance of Douglas Monahan, Area Boys' Work Secretary, who addressed the group on "Hi-Y Head-Lights."

On Sunday, October 24, over one hundred Hi-Y members and their parents turned out to witness the induction of thirty boys into the Hi-Y program. The services were held at the Neighborhood Methodist Church in Maywood.

The Hi-Y Thanksgiving Service was presented to four assemblies in the Proviso auditorium Wednesday morning, November 24. The theme of the service was "I Am Thankful for My Home, Church, and School." Three Hi-Y boys, James Finlayson, Robert Miller, and Pete DeLuca, were the theme leaders. Special music was furnished by the Proviso Boys' Chorus under the direction of Robert Davis.

The Hi-Y custom of furnishing a Christmas tree for the school was carried out again this year. A committee composed of one member from each Hi-Y chapter purchased and decorated the tree. Mr. Okelepek's senior chapter purchased toys and presented them to the children in the Maywood Lutheran Home.

Instead of the traditional Hi-Y Father-Son Banquet which has always been held during the month of March, the Hi-Y chapters voted to hold a Hi-Y fun night at the Oak Park Y.M.C.A. Over one hundred Hi-Y members and their fathers took part in this event. The final activity was the Hi-Y formal.

THE OXFORD CONGRESS

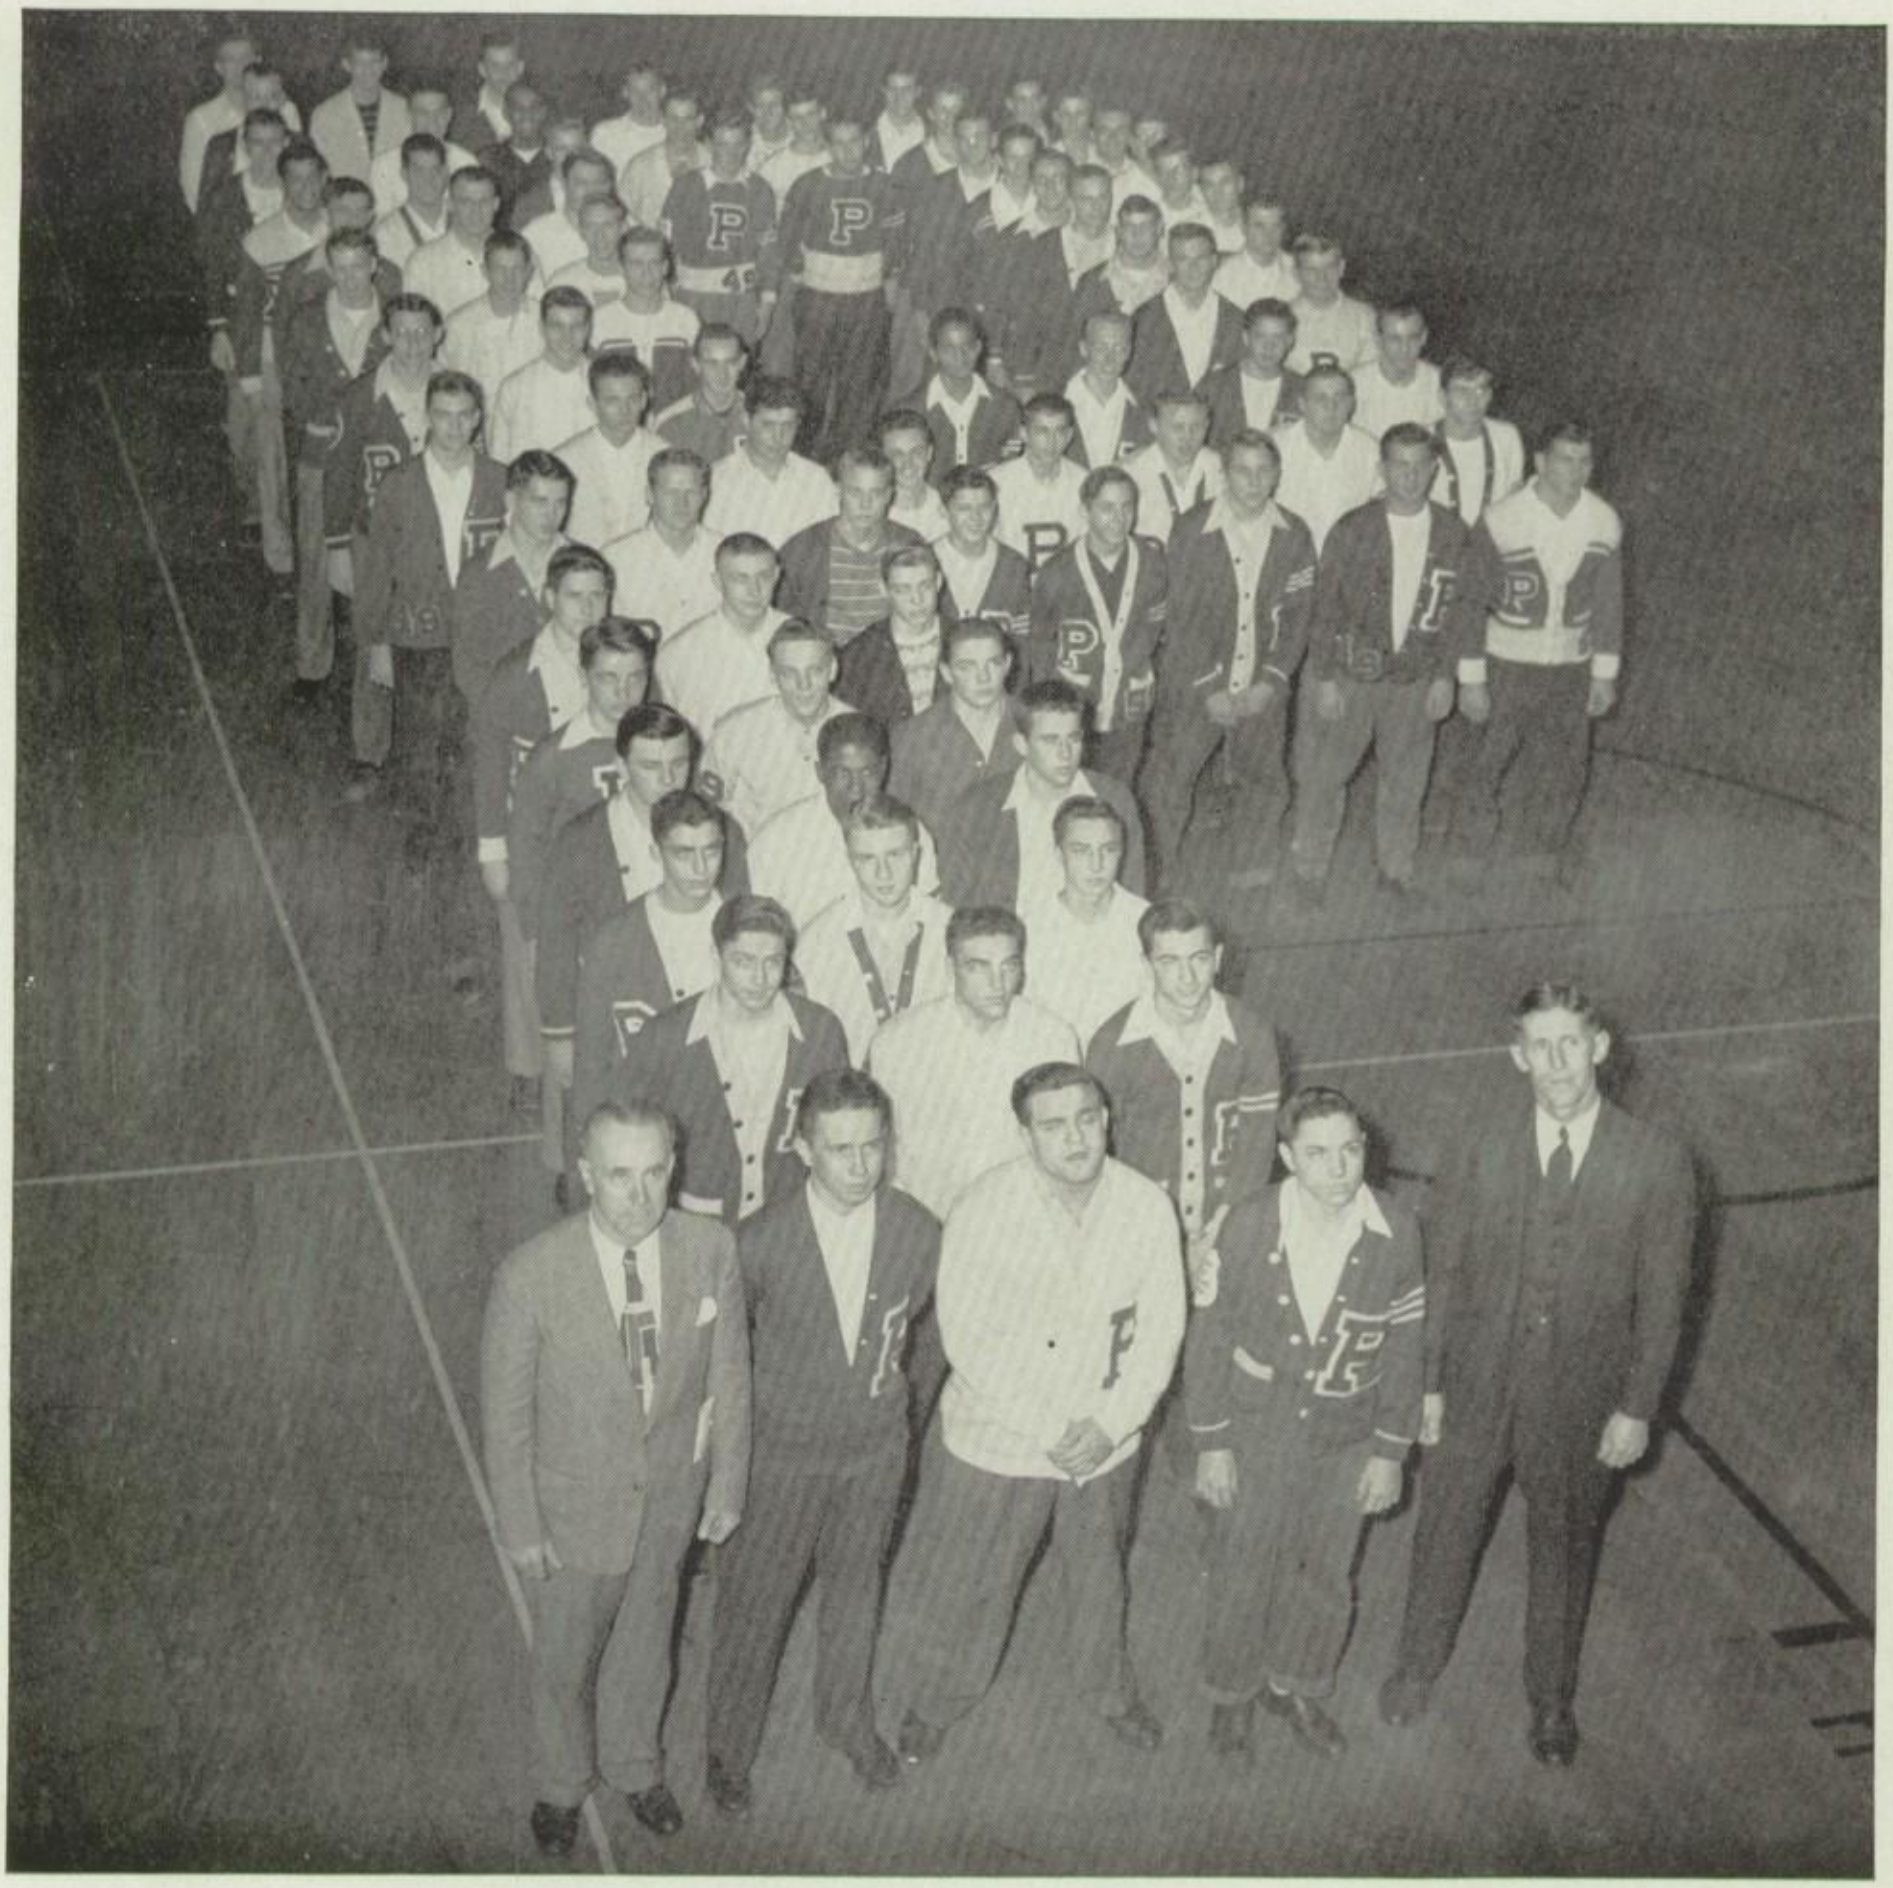
In the summer of 1948, one thousand boys and girls from nearly every state in the country met in Oxford, Ohio, as delegates to the Fifth National Hi-Y Congress.

As representatives of nationwide Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y chapters, these young people shared ideas and experiences; they discussed club, school, and world problems. Working in small groups, they drew up standards of good club practices, and then took inventory of their respective chapters in the light of these standards.

Each day of the congressional session, a legislative committee met for the purpose of drawing up recommendations for passage by the body. These proposals had far-reaching influence both on the club programs and on the lives of the individual members.

Proviso was represented by four delegates: Robert Pallissard, Kenneth Koeritz, Charles Dillner, and Larry Thomas. Mr. Dillner acted as faculty sponsor and advisor to the legislative committee.

Proviso Letter Men's Clubs, Major and Minor



The Proviso Major Letter Men, under the enthusiastic leadership of Mr. Law, started their second year with the successful "Pirates' Prance." At an athletic banquet, major letters were awarded. The "Levi Leap" was the club's lively winter dance. The PMLM ran the junior-senior basketball game. The newly adopted jackets, blue with white letters, were first worn in February. Major Letter Men showed Proviso athletic movies to interest the eighth grade boys of the district in freshman sports. The first and second semester officers were, respectively, Russ Thomas, Phil Elbert, president; Lee Anderson, Rudy Frasca, vice-president; John Rempert, Art Lehman, secretary; Jerry Holan, Leon Josey, treasurer.

The Minor Letter Club was sponsored by Mr. Wrobke. As its members attained major letters, they became members of PMLM. The first and second semester officers were, respectively, Fred Jellissen, James Fedro, president; Don Neikamp, Ray George, vice-president; James Fedro, Bert Abbs, secretary-treasurer.

P. Y. F. Sponsors Varied Christian Activities

The Proviso Youth Fellowship, observing its tenth year of service to the high school, has grown steadily until it has become one of the more influential young people's groups. It has been sponsored since its inception by Miss Ruth Beck, Otto Dillner, and V. G. Catlin. This organization is enthusiastically backed by the Community Christian Council which gives both financial and moral backing.

Christian living and common fellowship are the standards which guided the church and the school-sponsored Proviso Youth Fellowship as they planned their year of activities.

The first activity was the annual fall picnic, called "Fun F'rawl." Next came two Friendship Nights, held at various community "host" churches.

As the school year progressed, committees assembled and met under the supervision of faculty members to plan the biggest event of all — the 10th annual conference. A theme was chosen: I Wonder — about myself, God, my family, my future. Outside speakers were sought and obtained. Finally, the plans were completed and the conference was held.

The last program was the inspirational Easter Sunrise Service, planned by the next year's officers and the Reverend Herbert Reichert, pastoral adviser.

A comparatively new organization in Proviso is the Explorer Scouts, whose primary aim is concerned with building the character of its members. The club is affiliated with the Boy Scouts and is divided into four divisions . . . social, indoor, outdoor, and service. Hikes, tours, and banquets provide the boys with interesting and educational experiences. The year's events included trips to various industrial establishments such as The American Can Company and Zenith Radio Corporation.

The officers were James Dunham, explorer guide; William Blum, assistant explorer guide; and Ed Huffman, keeper of the totem and purser.

PROVISO USHERS

A select group of forty young ladies comprises the Proviso's Ushers' Club. Trimly clad in black and white, they render indispensable services at all school functions — choir and orchestra concerts, P. T. A. meetings, class plays, wherever crowds or audiences gather. This year, as a diversion from the regular activities of the club, a dance, "The December Song," was given for the members and their guest couples. The faculty sponsors for the year were Miss Genevieve Krebs and Mr. George Haddock.

The officers who served this year were Grace Beck, president; Gerry Murray, vice-president; Olga Kazlauski, secretary; and Joan Stahler, treasurer.

CINE CLUB

Proviso's visual education program has been brought to its high level through the efforts of the Cine Club. Under the sponsorship of C. W. Bills, these boys have mastered the art of operating the moving picture projector, and have proved their skill by showing educational films in the classrooms for a happy combination of study and entertainment. Besides the actual functions that the club usually undertakes each year, it is proud to boast of an enlargement to its film library.

The officers of the year were James Seeck, president; Richard Laue, vice-president; Scott Buginas, secretary; and Roy Catenacci, treasurer.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club offers to amateur photographers opportunities to improve their technique in taking pictures. The members, whose common interests are centered around the camera, learn about the finer points of photography and its three fundamentals . . . printing, developing, and enlarging. Of the various projects carried out by the club for the year, the most outstanding was the photography exhibit in the main corridor during American Education Week. These activities are carried on under the able sponsorship of Mr. Harvey Johnson.

The Girls' Athletic Association combines the excitement of spirited teamwork and co-operation with skill, competition, and enjoyment to make a working organization for all girls who are interested in sports. Social events give added interest to the varied program.

Every Friday, sixth period, the leaders' class, composed of the officers and the individual sport managers, meets to discuss and work out problems, social procedures for ensuing parties, and policies to be adopted later by the membership.

The officers of G.A.A., Emma Wiedder, president; Norma Berger, first vice-president; Nancy Schneider, second vice-president; Joan Stahler, secretary; Erna Hanke, treasurer; and Carol Skala, historian, work in close co-operation with their sponsor, Miss Eva Eddy, and the other teachers of physical education. The combined efforts of the officers and teachers produce an excellent all-round program.

Activities Galore

For those active members of G.A.A. who have accumulated points earned by participation in a number of different sports there is a series of awards. The first two are local: the diamond-shaped 600-point award and the blue Proviso "P" 1200-point award. The last two are awards which must be sent out from the state headquarters: for 1600 points, the letter "I"; and for 2000 points, an emblem shaped like the state of Illinois.

The sports are seasonal, consisting of tennis, archery, riding, golf, baseball, and speedball in the fall; volleyball, swimming, basketball, advanced riding, and badminton in the winter; and swimming, badminton, tennis, archery, riding, and beginning golf in the spring. Archery, golf, and tennis are the three inter-scholastic activities in which the teams compete with those of other schools.

The horses seem weary already, though these alert Proviso equestriennes haven't yet put them through their paces.

To the beat of a tom-tom on Freshman Play Day these brave warriors seem to be having a successful scalping party.

Either the pitcher has a jet-ball or the batter a lead bat, 'cause look where the ball is!!

Selling at the basketball games provides good training for Future Business Leaders.

Watch those piles grow. These FBLA members really know how to sell.

This nationwide organization is upheld by those students and teachers who believe that practical training for the business world should start right in the high school. In order to achieve this primary goal, the Business Leaders encourage such activities as talks by business experts, demonstrations by experienced typists, and trips to business establishments.

Officers for the year were William Krueger, president; Jack Buyer, first vice-president; Joyce Larson, second vice-president; Betty Hoym, third vice-president; Mary Koerner, secretary; Carole Nelson, financial secretary; and Betty Knox, treasurer.

Players Provide Outlet for Dramatic Ability

Since 1929, the Proviso Players, whose purpose is to promote interest in, and the knowledge of, the art of dramatics, has provided entertainment and training for thousands of students. Consisting exclusively of juniors and seniors, the group endeavors to provide an outlet for Proviso's creative, artistic, and dramatic talent.

Throughout the year, the Players' programs were both educational and inspiring. Those plays chosen for presentation before the organization were directed and costumed by the cast and criticized by the members at the following meeting.

Throughout the twenty years of their existence, the Players have frequently provided entertainment for school and local functions. At Parent-Teacher meetings, at assemblies, at Girls' League occasions, and at social clubs throughout the community, the organization's skits and sketches have been soundly applauded.

The club during 1948-49, for the first time, was under the enthusiastic supervision of Miss Elizabeth Little.

Sounds That Charm the Listening Ear

Presenting three concerts and a P.T.A. program, the Concert Orchestra worked with zest and achieved gratifying results. For the first time, formal attire was worn by the members at the concerts. With the aid of a newly acquired Lektro-Tuner, the organization made outstanding progress in intonation.

Soloists this year were as follows: Ruth Boss, violin; Joyce Gerstung, violin; James Good, trumpet; Patricia Kamin, piano; Joan McLetchie, cello; and George Nickas, piano. The String Trio composed of James Johnson, concertmaster; Jack Averill, cello; and George Nickas, piano, also appeared. Various soloists and ensembles were sent throughout the community to appear on programs.

Awards were presented for outstanding service and musicianship. Ruth Boss, violin, and Ortiz Walton, bass, received superior ratings in the District Orchestra Contest and later competed in the State Contest. David Lange, bass, was president of the Executive Cabinet.

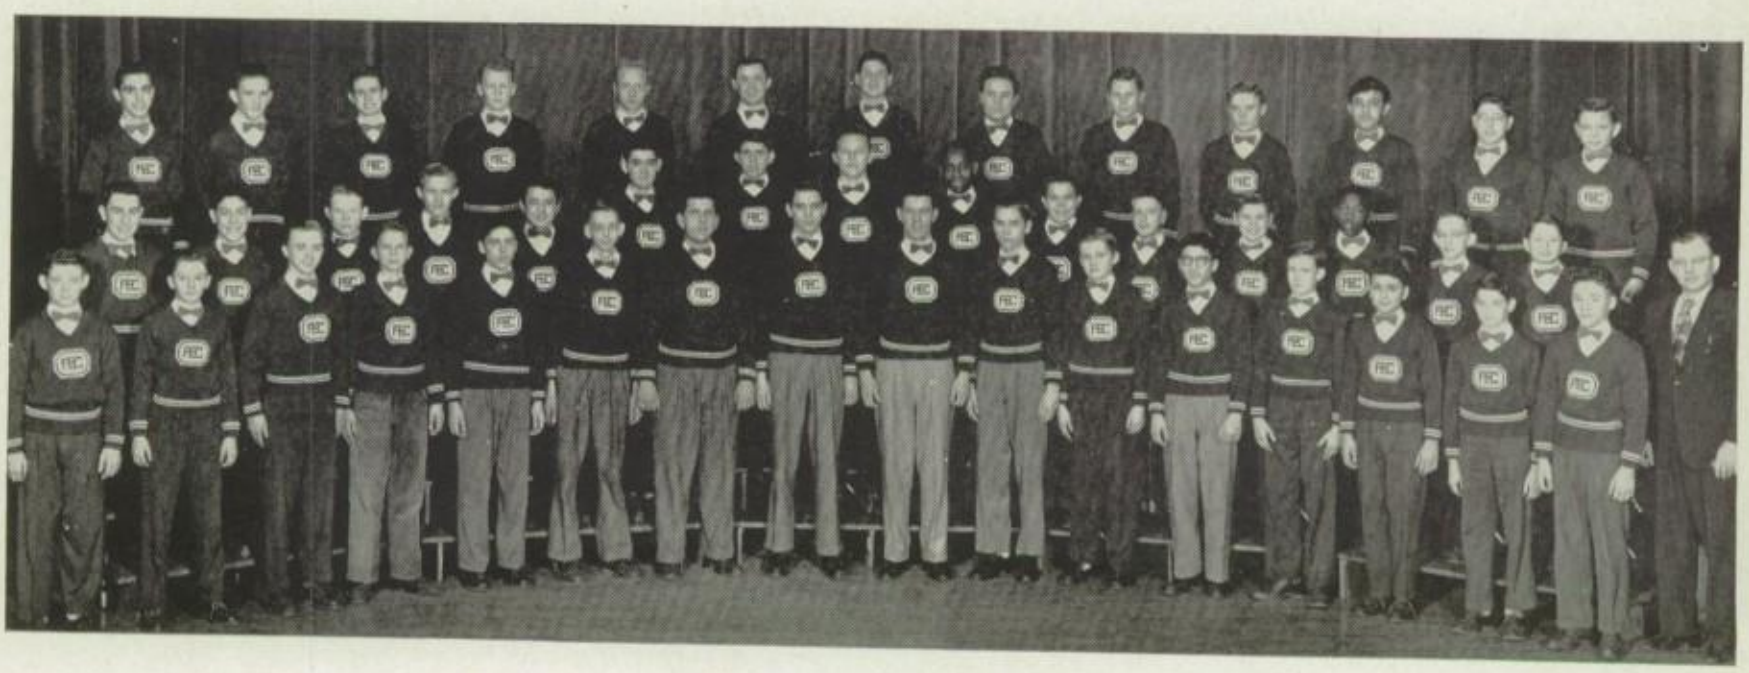
Enjoyment for School and Community Functions

Impressively robed in blue, the choir, under the direction of Robert A. Davis, gave a year of outstanding performances for the enjoyment of all music lovers. Both liturgical and semi-classical, as well as many novelty numbers, have been equally well rendered on its programs. As in past years, the choir gave several school concerts, the most outstanding of which was the presentation of Tschaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite." This featured number coupled with interpretative dancing proved entertaining to both the eye and the ear. Appearances outside of school were given at the Congress Hotel, the P.Y.F. Conference, and surrounding grade schools and churches.

Many programs have been enriched by choir soloists as well as by the girls' sextette, the boys' octette, and the mixed ensemble.

The activities of the group were administered this year by the following officers: Al Gonder, president; Gloria Migliozzi, vice-president; Joan Dymmel, secretary; and Paul Lehnhardt, treasurer.

Two other up-and-coming choral groups are the Girls' and Boys' Choruses. Organized two years ago, they have grown in musical stature and have found enthusiastic recognition in their performances both in and out of school.



The Pageant Aims to Educate, to Humanize,

The Proviso Pageant, on the thirtieth anniversary of its founding, began the year with a new supervisor, Richard L. Daniels, who has for the past eleven years assisted in the paper's publication.

To give the Pageant an attractive and artistic appearance; to foster school spirit; to educate, to humanize, to entertain, and to inspire their readers by maintaining the high standards of Proviso's school newspaper — these were the specific aims of the '48-'49 staff. The qualities of freshness and readability were proof that Pageant stories and columns were written with a sensitive consideration for the pleasure of its young readers.

A novel ten-page United Nations edition dedicated to the school-wide promotion of that organization, and the gay Christmas issue printed in bright red and green ink, were the two special issues fostered this year.

to Entertain, and to Inspire its Readers

The Pageant staff for the first semester is comprised of seniors who are well qualified, having previously taken the course in news writing. At the beginning of the second semester, a fresh group of juniors who have recently completed this course are incorporated into the journalistic routine of Pageant work.

The literary staff, which had charge of editing all copy for the magazine section, filled its columns with the best works from the class in creative writing, the original manuscripts submitted by the members of Quill and Scroll and talented students from the school's English classes.

The sports staff enjoyed an active year reporting the athletic events with accuracy and enthusiasm. Typing all copy in preparation for the printer was the exacting job of the clerical staff.

The responsibilities of Robert Stickler and the circulation staff were to solicit advertisements for publication in the newspaper, and to distribute all copies of the Pageant during the sixth period on Friday afternoons.

The cooperation of the various staffs and the assistance of their supervisors made possible the winning of the International Honor Society of High School Journalists' award, and the Gallup award for outstanding service to school and community.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Besides providing young writers with an opportunity for doing voluntary creative and journalistic writing, the Parnassus Chapter of Quill and Scroll offers its members experience in giving and receiving constructive criticism.

The monthly programs, consisting of essays, short stories, poems, magazine reports, and newspaper articles, are held at the homes of the various members. Highlighting the year's activities were the organization's Christmas meeting, at which former sponsor Miss Florence I. Otis read Christmas stories, and the May meeting, at which the members entertained their parents in the social room.

The officers for the year were as follows: Kathryn Cortese, president; Robert Smith, vice-president; Carol Lou Hogg, secretary-treasurer; and Phyllis Underwood, critic. Mr. R. L. Daniels served as sponsor.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Future Teachers of America is a new club at Proviso. It has been organized to provide an opportunity for students interested in teaching to get together with others having the same interest. By attending faculty meetings, lectures, and conferences, these students receive first hand information on their chosen profession.

The officers for this year were Don Osborne, president; Lois Peterson, vice-president; and Gemma Leone, secretary-treasurer.

Seated—Don Osborne, Gemma Leone, Joanne Stoll, Diane Christopher, Marjorie Davis, Elizabeth Walcher, Lois Scharsich, Jeannine Renier, Peggy Warren.

CLERICAL STAFF—Marcella Lake, Arlene Ralph, Lois Gitzel, Geraldine Murray, chairman.

The Provi is the result of the combined effort of three separate staffs of seniors—editorial, art, and business—each under separate supervision, yet all working at high tempo under one leadership, that of Miss Marm, general supervisor.

Interviewing, writing, copy-reading, typing, organizing layouts—these were just a few of the tasks of the editorial department. Under the sponsorship of Miss Scott, the staff members, headed by the editor-in-chief, began work in the early fall and were busy for most of the year. Although there was much hard work for the members, pleasure was also derived from happy fellowship with co-workers, and satisfaction in having had a part in compiling the school's yearbook.

The beauty, originality, and suitability of the work of the art staff is a credit to Miss Marm, art director.

The business staff, supervised by Mr. Judd, was responsible for handling finances, arranging senior picture schedules, and distributing the finished book.

Photographs used in the Provi were taken by Mr. Johnson and accommodating members of the Root Studio staff.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the P.T.A. is to bring into closer relation the home and the school, and to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest educational advantages. Two aids fostered by the P.T.A. are The Needy Student Fund, which supplies recommended articles; and the Worthy Student Fund, which furnishes money in emergencies.

Every meeting of the organization, held regularly on the Thursday evening after each grade period closes, is preceded by an hour of conferences between the individual parents and teachers.

BLUE BOOK

The Blue Book, revised every other year by a staff of seniors, juniors, and sophomores under Miss Eleanor Lonek's supervision, is designed to introduce new students to Proviso. It helps them to become acquainted with the unfamiliar scenes and the daily schedules, as well as the extra-curricular activities, the different honors awarded, and the school organization. Included are various pictures portraying major phases of life at Proviso, and a detailed floor plan for the convenience of newcomers.

The Calendar

A Brief, Pictured Summary of the Year's Flurry of Events

Presents the Months in Kaleidoscopic Review . . . .

September — Making First Impressions

1. Skies clear, flags flying, stadium packed! Classes out at three for opening pep assembly.
2. Deciding on program music for the next concert seems to be serious business.
3. Michael O'Brien, prize boxer, sadly bids his master goodbye the first day of school.
4. Tense moment with "31" carrying the ball. Will it be a touchdown?
5. Ambitious seniors apply for the prodigious job of getting out the Provi.
6. September's sunny days brought out hordes of eager cross-country runners.

October — Fall Sports . . . Festive Parties

1. Better watch out for gals who can hit the bull's eye like this.
2. What can a couple of cautious boys do when the girls start closing in?
3. Evidently there was some question about admitting these suspicious looking couples.
4. The welcome pause that refreshed during the Major Letter Men's dance.

4A. There they go a-prancin' and a-pacin'—our high-steppers, the majorettes.

5. The Student Council receives the year's leaders into its ranks.

November — We Count Our Blessings

1. Members of the orchestra learn fine points of the fiddle from one who knows.
2. We seem to discern one senior at this exclusive though informal junior dance.
3. Local lovelies turn Hill-Billy for a League program, and stop the show.
4. Bill and Joyce certainly can step it off when the be-bop music says "Let's go."
5. Our Mr. Law nerves himself with one last swallow before presiding at the football banquet.
6. Mr. K.'s efficient crew getting activity tickets ready for distribution.

December — Proviso Christmas Traditions

1. Music at the Mixer must have been dreamy. See what it did to Al and Howie!
2. If college is as pleasant as its prospects, what are we waiting for?
3. Girls, girls, you're being addressed! Stop mugging the camera.
4. Can the big strong referee ever get these wrestlers untangled?
5. Rhythm, romance, and airy persiflage at the "Ball of the Bells."
6. Honestly, Mr. Carr, I was sick, and my father broke his leg, and grandma died, and . . .

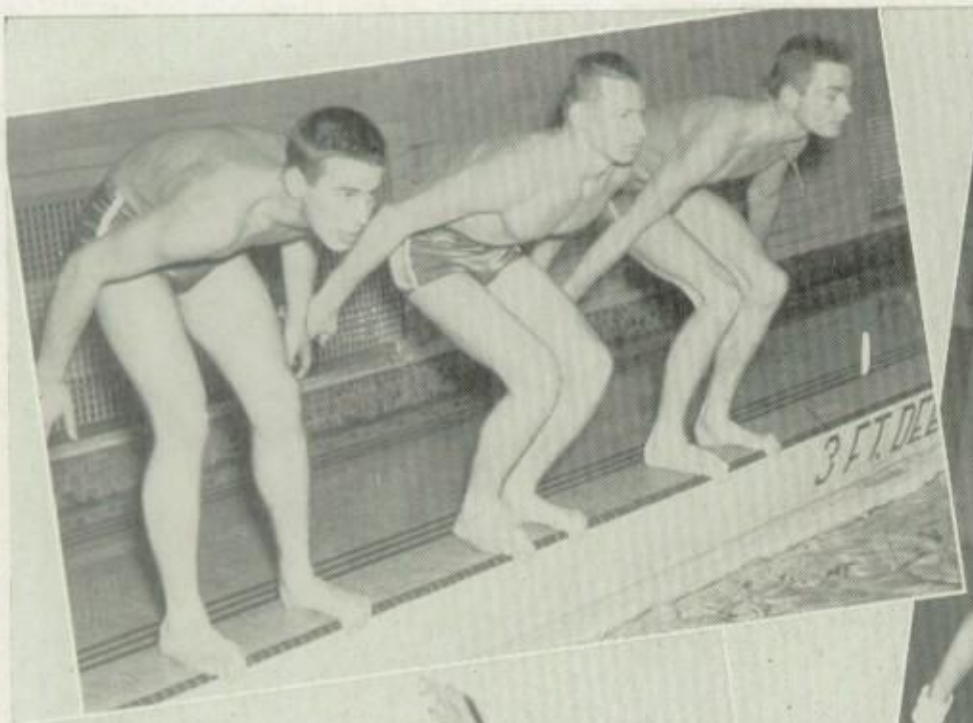
January — New Semester Resolutions

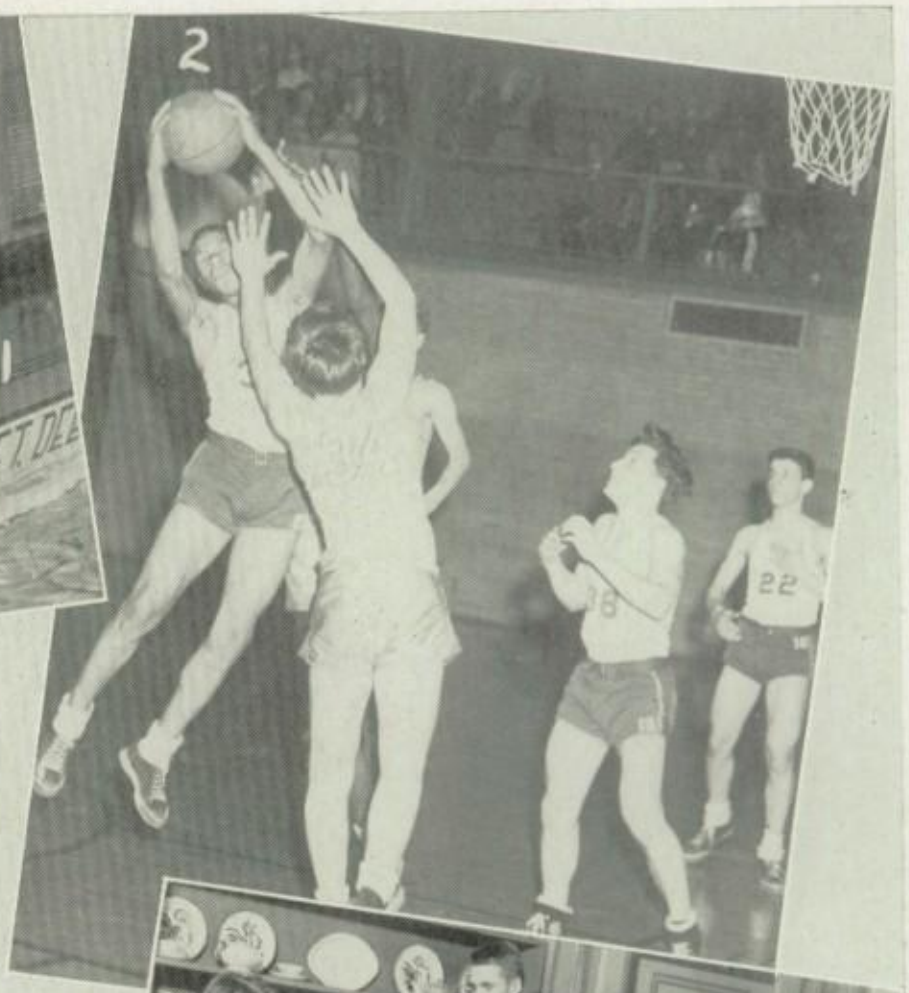
1. Millikin and Hanson about to go off the boards into the deep blue for more points.
2. The favorite part of the program at one of the freshman counseling parties—refreshments.
3. Haven't we heard that snowballing around school is illegal? Better just wash his face!
4. Extra! Two air-borne players collide in mid-air! Result: two free throws.
5. Operation Rehash enacted semi-annually by all Proviso students—the final exam!
6. Little general with jaunty salute leads on to a week-end of freedom.

February — A Month of Sentiment

1. Scene from Mackaye's "George Washington at the Delaware," Patriotic Assembly, February 20.
2. Basketball seems not only to have gone to his head, but to have replaced it.
3. Hanging around the halls after school, or are they monkeying 'round?
4. Oh, to be a handsome life guard rescuing one of these lovely water nymphs!
5. Local band celebrity snares the attention of his audience.
6. All this masculine pulchritude and perfect posture, with not a girl in sight!

March — The Welcome Return of Spring





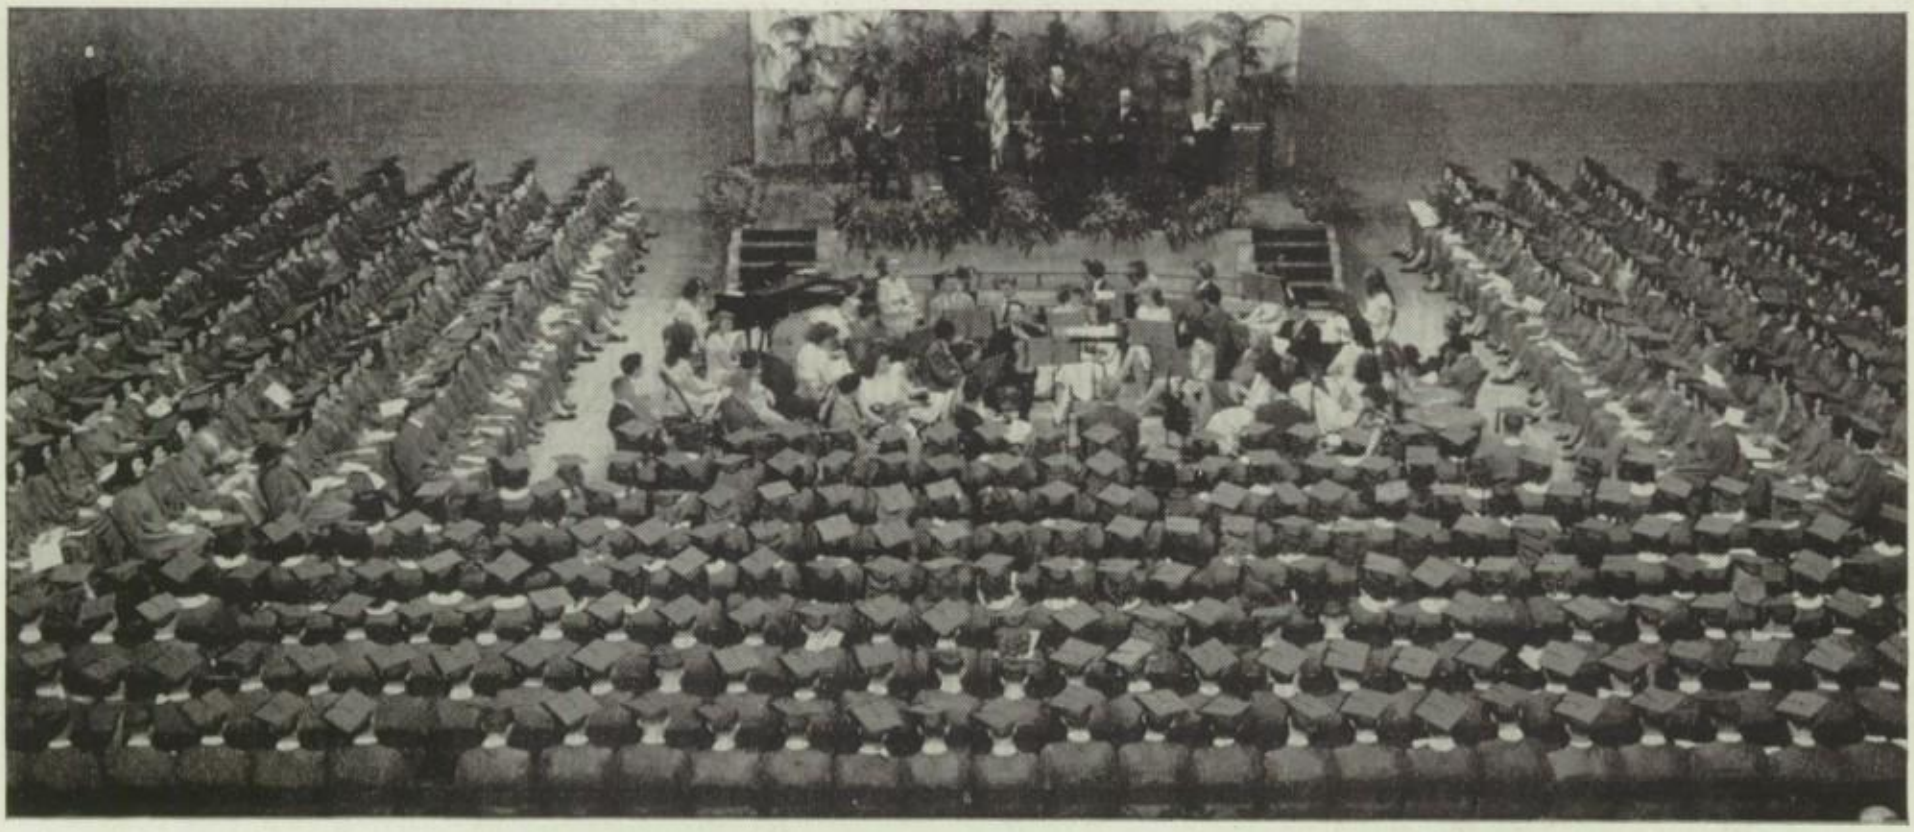
1. Thomas, Holan, and Anderson get set to break a few more records.
2. How can you stop a fellow like Grady who can float above his guard?
3. The Misses Kelley, O'Mara, and Reilly do a lively Irish jig in honor of St. Patrick.
4. Members of the class admire interesting collection of senior play props.
5. Queen Marilyn of the P. Y. F. Conference shares congratulations with officers, speaker, and sponsor.
6. Miss Little, senior play coach, helps "Mama's" family get their budgeting across the footlights.

April — The Inspiration of Easter

1. The hurdles get a coat of fresh paint before track season opens.
2. Watch your step! Stairs ahead! Such concentration is commendable but dangerous.
3. The Carousel committee makes plans for one of the best parties of the year.
4. This dainty ballet group enhanced the beauty of the spring choral concert.
5. The League style show was really professional with models like these.
6. Gay music, native dances, colorful costumes, foreign guests—Fiesta Internacional.
7. We love our teachers so much that we almost cry when school's out.

May and June—Prom, Graduation, Farewells

1. Clever quips and repartee make even dish washing fun at Girls' League affairs.
2. Boys, are you concentrating on botany, or is your fancy lightly turning . . .?
3. Judy and Doris take spring cleaning seriously, while idle by-standers just stand by.
4. Victims in various stages of a well-known fever; martyrs to the cause of education.
5. "Wheels-a-rollin' " is definitely the after-school idea as tempting summer weather returns.
6. Hopeful grads try on caps and gowns for size. They'll be less amusing and more impressive later on.



The quartet of years has passed,
Has rounded budding freshmen
Into full-blown seniors.

Swinging in unison to strains
Of the processional,
They tread soberly toward
Future problems, the unsounded
Plans of tomorrow, as explorers
Of their divergent paths to a
More worldly knowledge.

All experience is a part
Of understanding, that tool
Which fashions citizens and kings.
